AL SMITH CALLS UPON NEW ENGLAND STATES TO GIVE ROOSEVELT INEQUALIFIED SUPPORT

ONE-TIME POWER IN CITY POLITICS PARALYSIS VICTIM

Ex-Official, Serving Five-Year Term for Bribery, Stricken Tuesday Afternoon and Removed From Chaingang to Hospital.

PARDON ASSURED AT TIME OF DEATH

Taylor, Former Newspaper Columnist, Was Noted for Wit, Affability, Dress; Widely Popular.

Walter C. Taylor, 63, one of the most colorful and most powerful political figures in Atlanta for nearly a score of years, and formerly one of the most versatile newspapermen in this section of the country, died at 11 o'clock Thursday night at St. Joseph's infirmary.

Taylor's death came only a few hours before a full and complete pardon from his five-year sentence on the Fulton county chain gang after he was stricken by a heart ailment. Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, who directed the investigation into Taylor's conviction on five bribery counts Thursday expressed willingness to recommend a pardon for Taylor, and Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy, who presided over the trial, likewise was expected to give his consent. The movement to obtain a pardon for the city clerk was launched by his friends after he was stricken by a heart ailment in the River camp of the Fulton chain gang system.

Taylor was removed to the hospital here as soon as he became ill. Because of poor health, he had been given only light duties in the camp before he suffered the stroke, it was said.

For many years Taylor was one of the outstanding political figures of Atlanta. He served as executive secretary to the late Mayor James G. Woodward, and was city clerk for nearly 20 years.

Taylor served as clerk of the city of Atlanta from January 1911 to June 1930, during the term of Mayor H. H. Woodruff. He was a member of the grand jury which indicted Taylor in 1929.

Henry Ford and Wife Not Registered Voters

DETROIT, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The Detroit News says an inspection of election records in Dearborn discloses that neither Henry Ford nor Mrs. Ford is registered as a voter. The registration books closed October 20.

Mr. Ford recently made a radio speech urging the re-election of President Hoover.

ROAD BOARD VOTES NEW SALARY CUTS; TO LET CONTRACTS

5 Per Cent Reduction To Save $10,000 Monthly. $1,000,000 in Work To Be Let Next Month.

A second reduction in the salaries of all employees of the state highway department drawing upwards of $75 a month was announced Thursday by Captain J. W. Barnett, chairman of the state highway commission. The cut, which is 5 per cent, is effective on November 1. The first cut, one of 10 per cent, went into effect last January 1.

Captain Barnett announced at the same time that the board would let contracts totaling about $1,000,000 next month and also issued a call for bids on 1,643 miles of paving and one bridge in Hancock and Baldwin counties on the Milledgeville-Sparta road.

The new cut will save the board about $10,000 a month. Chairman Barnett said, "It was made necessary by continued falling off of the board's income from the gasoline tax and license fees on motor vehicles. These are the principal sources of our revenue and the gas tax is down about $800,000 and the revenue for sale of license tags is off about $500,000 for the year. We also have been unable to dispose of the warrants for the rental of the Western & Atlantic railroad, which we took by action of the legislature. These contingencies themselves total $1,080,000. So in all our income has been slashed about $2,500,000."

Previously the board had placed numerous employees on a part-time basis and practically abolished the survey department. Some of the men discharged in the survey department abolition, however, have been given employment in other departments as funds from federal sources have been available.

Hoover Departs For Hard Campaign

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL EN ROUTE TO INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Speeding again into the midwest, President Hoover late tonight occupied himself with a final marshalling of the campaign questions he will discuss tomorrow during appearances before a dozen audiences in three states.

When the chief executive boarded his special train in Washington, shortly before 11 p. m., he carried with him a not quite completed copy of the address he will deliver in Indianapolis tomorrow. It was the first of a series of speeches he will make during his tour.

Applause from late travelers and the fire of repeated flashlights ushered the president and Mrs. Hoover aboard the train. Then Mr. Hoover, smoking a cigar, went to the rear platform, stood there for a minute while more pictures were taken, bowed, and moved inside the train.

That rear platform will be his stage tomorrow for audiences in West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana, and at one time he owned a road show, and although it was a financial success, he left it to continue his newspaper work. He, however, kept his contacts with the press, and numbered hundreds of leading performers among his friends.

When the late Mayor Woodward took office, Taylor went with him as

ALVIN MCCULLOUGH IS FOUND GUILTY OF BAKER MURDER

Younger of Accused Slayings of W. B. Baker Gets Life Verdict; Father Faces Trial Today.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ga., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Alvin McCullough was found guilty by a jury in Fayette superior court this afternoon of the murder of William B. Baker, former president of the Atlantic Ice and Coal Company, of Atlanta. The verdict carried a recommendation for mercy which automatically provides a life sentence.

Formal sentence will not be passed by Judge W. E. H. Seay Jr., presiding, until after the trial of Andrew McCullough, father of Alvin, and jointly indicted for the Baker killing. Andrew McCullough is docketed for trial to begin when court convenes Friday morning.

The jury this afternoon was out only two hours, receiving the case at 3 o'clock and reporting with a verdict exactly at 5.

With all evidence in when court adjourned Wednesday, the entire day Thursday was devoted to the hearing of argument by counsel for state and defense and by the charge to the jury by Judge Seay.

By resting their case on the unsworn statement of the defendant with no other witnesses placed on the stand, the defense had the right to opening and closing arguments. Two hours for argument was assigned to each side.

R. A. Hartley opened for the defense and was followed in order by E. A. Sams, state, J. W. Culpepper, state; Frank Bowens, defense; Solicitor-General Emmet Owen, state; and Reuben Garland, defense.

Then court convened on Thursday morning Attorney Garland, leading counsel for the defense, made two motions for mistrial, both of which were denied by Judge Seay. His first motion was made on the grounds

NEW LAW SCHOOL TO BE DEDICATED

Dedication of Hirsch Hall Saturday Features Georgia Homecoming.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Alumni of the University of Georgia return to Athens this week-end for a brilliant homecoming program, featuring the dedication of Harold Hirsch Hall, new home of the Lumpkin law school, on Saturday.

Several other ceremonies reported employed subscriptions as 100 per cent, including the Whitehall Chevrolet Company, J. Allen Couch, Finance Company of the South, and the following agencies: American Red Cross, both Atlanta and DeKalb chapters; Atlanta Child's Home, Atlanta Legal Aid Society, Boy Scouts, Child Welfare Association of Fulton and DeKalb counties, Children's Service Society of Georgia, Community Employment Service, Community Shop, Family Welfare Society, Federation

Davis Enters Pen To Begin Sentence

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Wallace B. Davis, former Asheville banker, convicted with Luke Lee, Tennessee publisher, and the latter's son, Luke Jr., for violation of state banking laws, entered the North Carolina penitentiary today to begin serving a term of from five to eight years.

Davis and the two Lees were indicted and convicted in connection with the crash of the Central Bank and Trust Company, which Davis was president, late in 1930.

The elder Lee faces a prison sentence. His son was fined $25,000. Their cases are now before the United States supreme court.

Jamaica's New Tariff Hits American Goods

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The legislative council today unanimously adopted a new tariff bill which makes effective the trade agreement reached at the Ottawa imperial conference and raises the duty on numerous articles imported from the United States.

American hosiery will pay an additional 5 cents and cotton 10 cents. Silk, artificial silk and timber from the United States are assessed an additional 10 per cent. The new duty on American motor cars is 30 per cent, against 10 per cent for British.

One of the most important changes is a preference of 25 cents a pair for Canadian shoes. As a result of increased preference almost all of Jamaica's bananas will go to Canada and the United Kingdom.

Digest Brands as 'Lie' Ballot Change Rumor

Editor Woods Says "Not a Single Voter" Had Requested Change to Hoover at Time "Well-Known Brokerage House" Sent Out Wires.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(UP)—The editor of the Literary Digest, William Weaver Woods, tonight branded as a "falsehood, lie and canard" the report sent out by a New York brokerage house and later repeated by a republican orator that 35,000 persons had written the Digest asking that their votes in the poll be changed from Roosevelt to Hoover.

"Up to the time the falsehood was launched," said the statement, "the Digestative of the Digest in Chicago was a member of the staff there had heard the report from a Chicago employee of the magazine. Woods said the employee was not identified and that the only report of the Digest in Chicago was an advertising solicitor."

A complaint was made to the New York Stock Exchange, Woods said, and an investigation is being made to the source of the report.

Woods' statement said: "An old-fashioned political roachback has come out just in time to be nipped before election. It was sent out by a well-known New York brokerage house to a score of branch offices all over the United States on October 15 and said, 'We are told that the Literary Digest has received over 35,000 letters in the last 10 days from people who originally voted for Roosevelt on poll and now wish the ballots changed to Hoover.'"

SUBSCRIBERS PUSH CHEST TO $137,421

Drive To Reach $200,000 Total Today On; Reports on Campaign Good

Driving onward to the goal of $200,000, Community Chest workers prepared to push the sum subscribed above $200,000 in reports to be made at noon today, following announced donations Thursday of $46,088, which brought the total subscribed to date to $137,421.95.

The outstanding feature of reports Thursday were remarkable increases of subscriptions by employees of two firms, Rich's, Inc., and the Citizens & Southern National bank. Employees of the former contributed 100 per cent with a total of $2,888, an increase of 38 per cent over subscriptions of 1931.

Employees of the bank contributed $1,005.10, an increase of 110 per cent over the subscriptions of last year. Chest officials said, explaining that the figures for Rich's and the bank did not include donations from the firms themselves.

Several other companies reported employees' subscriptions as 100 per cent, including the Whitehall Chevrolet Company, J. Allen Couch, Finance Company of the South, and the following agencies: American Red Cross, both Atlanta and DeKalb chapters; Atlanta Child's Home, Atlanta Legal Aid Society, Boy Scouts, Child Welfare Association of Fulton and DeKalb counties, Children's Service Society of Georgia, Community Employment Service, Community Shop, Family Welfare Society, Federation

4 Americans To Ride With Mussolini Today

ROME, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Four Americans will ride for the first time with the personal staff of Premier Mussolini tomorrow when he reviews the parade of 15,000 fascist disabled war veterans, the climax of several days' celebrations of the fascist decennial.

The premier set a new precedent in inviting more than 100 foreign military and naval attaches to ride with him. The Americans, who will appear in full uniform, are Colonel E. R. Warner McCabe, military attaché; Captain MacGillivray Milne, naval attaché; Captain Francis M. Brady, assistant military attaché, and Lieutenant Commander Frederick W. Penoyer Jr., assistant naval attaché.

22 Navy Planes, Caught in Fog, Out of Gas, Forced Down, All Safe

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 27.—(AP)—A stirring air drama was played in an impenetrable fog here tonight after 22 navy airplanes had been stranded in the sky with dwindling gasoline supplies. At its conclusion every aviator was safe.

The planes attempted to land near their fuel ran dangerously low, one plane was demolished, another was badly damaged, one caught fire and several others turned over and were slightly damaged.

FLORIDA CONVICTS IN OPEN REBELLION AGAINST 'TORTURE'

38 Men in Road Camp Beat Trusty and Defy Officials; Armed Guard Unable To Quell Riot.

INDIAN TOWN, Fla., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Heavily armed guards patrolled the border of a state prison road camp near here tonight as 38 long-term convicts continued their strike, started early today in reprisal for an attempt of camp officials to incarcerate several of their number in the sweat box as a disciplinary measure.

Bonfires of bread and automobile lights cast their rays inside the fenced enclosure to prevent any possible attempt of the convicts to escape.

In a watchtower near by guards stood alert with guns trained on the scene.

The prisoners, Captain Musgrove said, severely beat a trusty cook when he went into the stockade, or sleeping quarters, last night.

Today Captain Musgrove placed the ringleaders of the flogging in the sweat box and about 30 or 40 of the gun men—those who work under guns—were released.

An attempt then was made to lock all the prisoners inside the stockade, but they declined to go.

Throughout the day the men have milled about the yard while the guards and trustees, with drawn guns, patrolled outside. The prisoners have declined food and authorities said they shouted defiance at them for what they termed the manner in which the camp is operated.

James Gates, of Bradenton, state prison inspector, and Sheriff Marion McGee, of Martin county, pleaded with the men to go back to their quarters and work tomorrow. McGee and McGee left their arms outside.

U. S. QUARANTINES FLORIDA COUNTIES

Cotton Shipments Banned To Prevent Spread of Pink Boll.

Acting to halt the spread of the pink boll worm, the grow, cotton fields of south Georgia, the federal department of agriculture Thursday clamped quarantine restrictions on six Florida counties known to be infested by the pest.

The six counties quarantined are Alachua, Baker, Bradford, Columbia, Gilchrist and Union.

The department of agriculture acted as the result of a hearing held in Washington, D. C., Monday which followed a request made last week by commissioner of Agriculture Eugene Talmadge. Notice of the quarantine was received by Leeman Anderson, secretary to Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., and Manning Yoernans, state entomologist. Commissioner Talmadge was out of the city Thursday keeping a speaking engagement at Summerville.

The six Florida counties include three large cotton-growing areas which produce a large part of the state's crop. The infestation was found to be somewhat scattered and though 90 per cent this year's crop already has been ginned the action was recommended.

Police and 'Hunger Marchers' Stage Bitter Battle in London

LONDON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The hunger march of the unemployed reached a bloody climax this afternoon in a riot at Hyde Park in which screaming and cursing men and women, who battered police with bricks and stones, kept the place in turmoil for more than an hour.

More than a score of persons were injured in the fighting, nine of them seriously enough to require hospital care.

Von Sternberg Is Here On Way to Los Angeles

Joseph Von Sternberg, dramatic genius whose artistry with UFA, the big German film corporation, attracted worldwide attention and later sent him to Hollywood, was in Atlanta Thursday after a flight by plane from Havana. The noted director was en route back to Los Angeles to resume directing pictures starring Marlene Dietrich, the blond beauty who has placed with the leading stars of the silver screen.

He let it be known that Miss Dietrich will continue to appear in what he termed "my pictures."

ROOSEVELT SEES GLORIOUS VICTORY ON NOVEMBER 8TH

Governor, Unable To Attend Stage Stars Banquet, Sends His Mother and Speaks by Radio.

BY W. G. RAGSDALE.

ALBANY, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Visualizing a "glorious democratic victory" in November, Franklin D. Roosevelt tonight told a group of stage and screen stars that he was confident that "the electorate understands the great issues involved" in the coming election "and their vital importance to the future of our beloved country."

Speaking from the quiet of his private study in the executive mansion, the democratic presidential candidate said that "under the leadership of a militant, vital, liberal democracy we are headed for better days."

Mr. Roosevelt spoke of his conference during the day with legislative leaders and expressed his pride "in the fact that the enlightened public opinion in this state, regardless of party, has backed me up" in the recognition of the duty of the state toward its unemployed citizens.

Speaking shortly after he had addressed the American-Greek Democratic Association of New York, Mr. Roosevelt said that with certain local exceptions unemployment relief was proceeding satisfactorily in New York state.

He said the decision that it was unnecessary to call a special session of the state legislature meant that "the voters had it in their power on election day to make certain that starvation, privation and other suffering will be greatly mitigated during the severe winter months that are ahead of us."

A $300,000 bond issue for relief is to be passed upon in the election.

He expressed regret that he was unable to attend the party and said he had sent his mother, "and I know she will be happy with you."

In his earlier speech to the Greek

2 Students Injured By Hit-Run Driver

Struck by a hit-and-run driver as they coasted down a hill on Glenwood avenue at Martin street in a small wagon, Benjamin Williams, 15-year-old Hoke Smith Junior, high school student, of 427 Pulliam street, and Sam Thomas, 12, of 488 Crew street, a student at the James L. Key school, were severely injured and were admitted to Grady hospital late Thursday afternoon.

Moses Evans, negro, of the rear of 131 Glenwood avenue, told police, was the driver of the car. He was arrested and taken to the police station.

The department of agriculture acted as the result of a hearing held in Washington, D. C., Monday which followed a request made last week by commissioner of Agriculture Eugene Talmadge. Notice of the quarantine was received by Leeman Anderson, secretary to Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., and Manning Yoernans, state entomologist. BOSTON ADDRESS IMPASSIONED PLEA FOR 'OLD FRIEND'

Tears Into Entire G. O. P. Accomplishments, Program and Ability as Flat Failure, Holding No Promise To Correct Ills.

DECLARES HOOVER TO BE INCOMPETENT

Only Successful Presidents in Past Fifty Years Have Been Governors, He Tells Audience.

Text of Address in Page 8.

BY ROBERT ST. JOHN.

ARENA, BOSTON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith, while thousands thundered applause, opened and closed a campaign speech tonight by calling for the election of his old political ally, Governor Roosevelt.

He told a thundering crowd estimated by police at 15,000 he had taken the stump in New England to "ask for the unqualified, full and complete support of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"In winding up his address to democrats of this states, which gave him their 1928 electoral votes and supported him to the end of the Chicago convention, he declared:

"I confidently believe the salvation of the United States depends upon the election of the democratic ticket under the leadership of Frank Roosevelt."

Frequently throughout the address, which was punctuated with the crowd's roars of approval, he spoke of Roosevelt as "Frank."

Most of the address, which Smith delivered in a booming voice, as perspiration streamed down his ruddy face, comprised a vigorous criticism of President Hoover, his cabinet members, leading republican senators and administration policies.

Smith said the republican administration had left the country "entirely in the dark as to our financial condition."

"In 1920 the country was facing a deficit of $1,000,000,000 and nothing was said about it," he continued.

"That was all right," he said a moment later, "they got away with it for a while."

Smith said every form of taxation imaginable was "pressed upon the people when they were least able to bear it."

"In the meantime absolutely nothing was done by the republican administration to curtail the cost of government," he went on.

"Worse than that was the incompetent handling of proposed sources of revenue."

Sum of $150,000 Has Been Paid Holders of Constitution Policies

Over $150,000 for widows and orphans, for men and women disabled and in pain as the result of accidents—That's what The Constitution's offer of a $10,000 travel accident insurance policy at phenomenally low rates to its readers has meant to injured persons and dependents of persons killed in mishaps during the time this remarkable reader service has been in effect.

Are you and your loved ones fully protected against the ever growing traffic accident peril?

You can never tell when you will be the victim of a train wreck, a crash of automobiles, the onrushing wheels of a speeding car, or a burning home. It is your duty to your loved ones to protect yourself and them against such emergencies.

The Constitution offers you the famous travel accident policy issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago. This insurance is offered to subscribers and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 60 on the one subscription going into that home at the small registration fee of $1 each per policy per year.

The policy The Constitution offers you provides for payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 for travel, $1,000 for auto and pedestrian deaths resulting from certain specified accidents, heavy sums for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for total disability resulting from the accidents set forth in the policy. All this for only $1 registration fee—just about 2 cents a week.

The policy is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill. The reliability of this concern is proved by the fact that already more than $150,000 in cash has been paid on claims to Constitution policyholders.

This insurance is offered to old and new subscribers alike. One who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, or will subscribe for same through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through out-of-town carrier or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, monthly, or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.

Paid-in-advance mail subscribers can also have this insurance by paying the small registration fee of $1 in addition to the subscription price.

Those living in Atlanta and suburbs finding it inconvenient to pay the $1 registration fee in advance can pay 20 cents registration fee with the application and 20 cents for five consecutive weeks thereafter in addition to the subscription price.

In sending application for insurance the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation, and if beneficiary is desired, the full Christian name of the beneficiary must be given and relationship to the insured.

STEEL IMPORTERS DENY CUTTING FOREIGN PRICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(P)—Importers today told customs officials they had not been bringing steel into the United States and selling it for less than in the country where it was manufactured.

Furthermore, they said, domestic producers who made charges to that effect at a hearing last week either intentionally were trying to be mis-

Key, Park To Discuss Intangibles Proposal

Men's council of the Atlanta League of Women Voters will sponsor a discussion for and against the proposed constitutional amendment on intangible taxes, with Mayor James L. Key speaking against the amendment and Orville Park, of Macon, will appear in behalf of such an amendment, at the Kimball house at 12:30 o'clock Monday. It was announced Thursday.

Andrew Fairlie, chairman of the men's council, will preside, and all members of the council, as well as of the League of Women Voters, and the general public, are invited to attend. Reservations for the luncheon should be made at league headquarters, telephone Walnut 5472, between 2 p. m. and noon.

87 BILLION CUPS
U. S. COFFEE TOTAL

The American coffee pot is bubbling higher and higher; each year it becomes larger and larger and today it has reached enormous proportions.

A pot large enough to hold all the coffee consumed in the United States during one year would have to be nineteen and one-half times as large as the Empire State building of New York. That may sound like a gargantuan coffee pot but the facts bear out the statement.

According to department of commerce figures, coffee sufficient to produce 87,016,175,450 cups was consumed in the United States during 1931. That number of cups would fill 721,742,444 cubic feet of space—and in the gigantic Empire State building there are approximately 37,000,000 cubic feet. Hence the United States coffee pot would have to be nineteen and one-half times as large. Another breath-taking, but graphic illustration of the size of our appetite.

petite may be made with railroad tank cars.

If all of the gallons of coffee consumed each year in this country were poured into tank cars containing 8,000 gallons each, 880,287 tankers would be needed. That number of cars would make 8,003 trains of 85 cars each or a line of trains 4,700 miles long stretching from San Francisco to New York and back almost to Omaha again.

Still another example of our coffee desires can be drawn, this one from America's most famous waterfall. Our year's coffee supply would run Niagara Falls, through which flows 500,000 tons of water a minute, for 45 minutes.

The statistics show that the average per capita consumption of Americans is 72.5 cups of coffee per year—or 1.98, almost 2 cups per day. Under normal market conditions the coffee industry, on the basis of import values, represents approximately a $300,000,000 industry.

The coffee consumed by Americans comes from 29 different countries. The mystery surrounding the discovery on a street of a coffin contain-

South America. More than 35 per cent of the money spent for this beverage by the United States in 1931 went to buy the rich and aromatic grades produced by the republic of Columbia, "model nation" of South America. The United States consumes more than 90 per cent of Columbia's annual crop.

Mystery Solved.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 27.—(AP) The mystery surrounding the discovery on a street of a coffin containing the body of a child, was dispelled today following discovery that it had been stolen from a mausoleum, apparently by vandals.

MRS. SARAH E. SEVIER DIES AT HOME HERE

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Sevier, 82 years of age, died late Thursday afternoon at her residence, 1162 North Highland avenue, N. E. She had been ill for several months. A native of Alabama, Mrs. Sevier had resided in Atlanta and in Nashville and Memphis, Tenn. She was a member of the Sacred Heart church. Funeral services will be held from the Sacred Heart church with interment in West View cemetery.

MILITARY DISPLAY TO MARK PARADE ON ARMISTICE DAY

The 14th anniversary of the end of the World War will be celebrated in Atlanta by one of the largest displays of military preparedness in the peacetime history of the city, according to plans for Armistice Day announced Thursday by Ralph P. Black, chairman of a committee on arrangements for events of that day.

Black, who has been chosen as marshal of the day, announced that the Atlanta post of the American Legion and the military students at Georgia Tech will join in the celebration, which will also include the famous 68th anti-aircraft regiment from Camp McClellan, Ala., which will put on a demonstration of defending the city from aerial attack on the night preceding Armistice Day. In addition, the governor's horse guards, the local naval reserve, fire department, police department and various high school R. O. T. C. units will be in the parade and exercises.

GIRLS' HIGH SENIORS

WILL PRESENT PLAY
"Little Red Riding Hood, Modernized" will be given by the senior class of the Girls' High school in Rich's tea room today at 3:30 o'clock. This play won the annual award in the "Black Crow," an inter-class contest that was recently held at Girls' High. The girls taking part are Marie Stalker, Bobby Jean Linn, Elizabeth Hanes, Edwin Boyle, Christine Doughman, Isabel Herzberg, Marjorie Scott, Judy Harbour, Marie Rice, Mary Stephens, Kitty Frazier, Eleanor Pike, Norma Hazelrigg, Lyle Littlefield, Laura Steele and Kathryn Bowen.

4-Months-Old Injury Fatal to Youth, 16

His neck injured when he struck the bottom of a shallow swimming pool four months ago while diving, Clarence Prince, 16, of 442 Chestnut street, died Thursday afternoon at Grady hospital. The youth fractured a vertebrae while swimming in Quitman, Texas, and after emergency treatment, was brought to Atlanta where he entered Grady hospital some time ago. His condition grew steadily worse, attaches said. Young Prince was a student at the Maddox Junior High school. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Prince. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Blanchard Brothers.

Half Million Jobless Return To Employment Since August

BY HARRY FERGUSON.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(UP)—A half million of the nation's unemployed have gone back to work. For the third consecutive month, the American Federation of Labor reported tonight, there has been a decrease in the more than 10,000,000 Americans who are jobless because of the depression.

Between August 31 and October 1, 500,000 members of the federation have obtained jobs. William Green, president of the federation, hailed the figures as encouraging, but warned that the situation was still grave. He said preliminary figures indicated there still were 10,900,000 out of work in this country.

"As an indication of seasonal business improvement," Green said, "these reports are encouraging. But as relief for the millions of unemployed they show small progress indeed. Much of the work gained in the last three months has been only part-time employment, for the number of members on part-time has increased from 21 per cent in July to 22 per cent in the first half of October."

Two-Year-Old Girl Heroine of Holdup

SPRING VALLEY, Minn., Oct. 27.—(AP)—A 2-year-old girl who released her parents after they had been bound and robbed by five men at their farm home, was acclaimed as the town heroine today.

The child, Lois Ann Ward, her mother's direction, toddled across a room and returned with a pair of scissors with which the parent freed herself and the other members of the household.

Victims of the raid were the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ward; John Clouse, farmer for whom they worked; and Miss Mabel Root, his housekeeper.

ness improvement," Green said, "these reports are encouraging. But as relief for the millions of unemployed they show small progress indeed. Much of the work gained in the last three months has been only part-time employment, for the number of members on part-time has increased from 21 per cent in July to 22 per cent in the first half of October."

"These gains are almost entirely seasonal, and when November brings layoffs, as it always does, most of this gain probably will be lost. Even after the slight improvement in September, early October figures from trade unions show 65 per cent still out of work in building and 62 per cent in metal trades, 42 per cent in manufacturing, 38 per cent in water transport, 31 per cent in theaters and 50 per cent among musicians and other professionals."

The federation extended its survey to 24 representative cities, which also reflected the September increase in employment. Sixteen of the cities showed gains in employment, two reported no change, and six showed losses.

Green submitted unpublished figures for 1932 and for April, 1930. Together they constitute a graph of unemployment in depression days.

In April, 1930, he estimated, there were 2,964,000 Americans out of jobs. From that month the graph swung sharply upward.

In January of this year it passed 10,000,000. Still the swing was upward. April found the figure at 10,496,000. The 11,000,000-line was crossed in June. In August came the peak—11,460,000.

It was in that month that the rising tide of the jobless was checked.

Son Defends Mother On Trial for Murder

CONCORD, N. H., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Cora Reynolds, 72, feebly and ill, pleaded not guilty today in superior court to a charge of murder in connection with the death of Alexander K. Stewart, 71, for whom she was housekeeper. Her counsel was her son, Lyman H. Reynolds, of Boston, an attorney, who had been reunited with his mother after he had read of her arrest.

Stewart was found dead in the yard of his home in Wilmot on June 6. Authorities later determined he had died of poison. Mrs. Reynolds, his housekeeper for eight years, was missing but was traced to Boston hospital, where physicians said she was suffering from senile psychosis.

Her son had lost track of his mother since 1928, but on learning of her predicament came to her defense immediately.

Manchurian Lines Broken by Chinese

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Common reports reported that the Manchurian lines, which had been broken by Chinese troops, were now being re-established by the Japanese government.

The Moscow foreign office, it was revealed, has been the Japanese government's chief source of news on the situation concerning its subjects near Manchuria since September 27, when that section of western Manchuria fell into the hands of the Chinese "defense forces."

Since then the Japanese consulate there has been patrolled by Chinese troops.

DR. HARRY N. HOLMES TO SPEAK AT GA. TECH

Dr. Harry N. Holmes, nationally known chemist of Oberlin College, Ohio, will speak at 8 o'clock tonight in the Georgia Tech dining hall on "Colloid Chemistry and Catalysis" and give demonstrations on his remarks. The public was invited to attend the lecture.

Dr. Holmes is a writer of note and has contributed many articles to chemical journals and is the author of several textbooks on inorganic and colloid chemistry. He will speak here as the guest of the American Chemical Society Georgia section.

Officers of the Georgia section are Dr. Paul Seydel, chairman; Dr. Sam Guy, of Emory University, councilor; Dr. W. P. Heath, secretary, and Dr. Harold M. Freeman, of Georgia Tech, chairman of the program committee.

J. L. BROWN PASSES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Joe L. Brown, 50, former Atlanta, of Seneca, S. C., died at St. Joseph's infirmary Thursday morning following an illness of three days. He was coming South with his wife, Mrs. B. Brown, and funeral services will be held there Saturday afternoon. The body will be taken to Seneca Saturday morning by Brandon, Bond & Condon.

Mr. Brown resided in Atlanta more than 15 years ago, and was well known here. He was the brother of J. B. Brown and Mrs. J. H. Bryan, both of Atlanta. He is also survived by two nieces, Mrs. Courtland S. Winn Jr. and Miss Dorothy Brown, of Atlanta, and two nephews, J. B. Brown Jr., of Atlanta, and Harry M. Bryan, of Jackson, Miss.

BULA CROKER WINS AWARD OF $2,000,000

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Another of the big lawsuits revolving around the estates of Richard Croker, late Tammany leader, which have kept his widow, Mrs. Bula Croker, involved in litigation for many years, was considered by her attorneys today to be virtually at an end with Mrs. Croker awarded about $2,000,000 as a price for some of her Palm Beach ocean frontage.

ROOSEVELT MEDAL WON BY CALIFORNIAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The Roosevelt medal of honor for science was bestowed upon Dr. Robert A. Millikan, of Pasadena, Cal., at the annual dinner tonight of the Roosevelt Memorial Association. The dinner commemorated the 74th anniversary of the birth of the late President Theodore Roosevelt.

AMEE AND HUSBAND ARRIVE IN U. S. PORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27.—(AP)—

Refreshed and smiling but silent of tongue, Amee Semple McPherson Hutton, Los Angeles evangelist, and her husband, David L. Hutton, returned here tonight on the United Fruit steamer Tela from a "rest cruise" through the Caribbean sea.

She secluded herself in a cabin while her husband announced she would be back preaching in the Angeles temple at Los Angeles "a week from Sunday." She refused to be interviewed.

MORRIS IS ABSOLVED IN BURNING OF HOME

Indictment Returned Against
J. R. Shirley, Ex-Convict,
by Grand Jury.

L. M. Morris was absolved of blame in the burning of his residence at 2139 East Lake road on August 7 Thursday by the DeKalb county grand jury and J. R. (Red) Shirley, former convict, was charged with arson by the same body.

The grand jury investigation grew out of the fire which destroyed the residential building while the Morris family was away on a fishing trip in Florida. Shortly after they returned, after hearing of the fire, Morris was arrested by DeKalb county officers and released under $5,000 bond.

Officers said they made the arrest after Shirley had signed a confession that Morris hired him to burn the house in order that insurance might be collected. Shirley was arrested and was in jail when the indictment was returned.

Mrs. Morris Issues Statement.
Commenting on the no bill of the grand jury, Mrs. Morris issued a statement outlining events before and after the fire. She said they knew nothing of the fire until they read it in newspapers while in Florida two days after it occurred and charged attempts at blackmail as the reason her husband was involved.

Denying reports that Morris had attempted suicide at the time of his arrest, she said her husband merely was snapping a pistol to see if it contained a bullet, which he desired to loan for her protection while he accompanied officers to arrange bond.

Regarding insurance on the residence, Mrs. Morris said that the policy had been cancelled only a short while prior to the fire and that estimates to replace the structure at present prices by an Atlanta architect had set the figure at $10,000 in excess of insurance carried, which was $2,000 less than half of the original cost of building. She also said she lost jewelry, including diamond and wedding rings, and other things of sentimental value.

Fire Officials Ignored Alarm.
Atlanta and Decatur fire departments refused to answer an alarm turned in by neighbors of Morris, the departments having orders at that time not to answer fire calls in the Druid Hills section outside of incorporated limits because of the lack of arrangements to care for the cost of answering the call. Since that time, negotiations have resulted in temporary arrangements being made under which the departments will answer calls in that section, pending a final disposition of the Druid Hills fire protection matter.

MRS. WILLIAM HIATT DIES AT WOODLAND

Mrs. William Hiatt, for 40 years a prominent Atlanta church worker, died Thursday morning at her home at Woodland, on Marietta road, following a brief illness. The funeral will be held at 8:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Liberal Christian church, with Dr. A. P. Hess and Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Rowlett officiating. Interment will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

STANDRIDGE FUNERAL TO BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for John W. Standridge, 59, for half a century a resident of Austell, who died Wednesday night at an Atlanta hospital, will be conducted at 11 o'clock this morning from the Austell Baptist church, with the Rev. S. T. Gilliland and the Rev. F. A. Boe officiating. Burial will be in Rose Hill cemetery, with the Latham Lodge No. 12, F. & A. M., of which he was a member, in charge of the graveside services.

Mr. Standridge had for many years been a prominent Austell citizen, being deeply interested in public affairs. He was a member of the Baptist church, the Masonic lodge and the Odd Fellows. Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Gault Brown; a son, Chester Standridge; two brothers, R. B. and J. E. Standridge, all of Atlanta, and two foster sons, Harvey Deal, of Austell, and Jamie Deal, United States navy.

LADY ASTOR WILL AID RICHMOND FUND DRIVE

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Announcement that Lady Astor, the former Nancy Langhorne, of Virginia, will come to Richmond and speak at the opening of the community fund campaign on November 10 was made today after a trans-Atlantic telephone conversation between the British peeress and Parliament Member Julian H. Hill, Richmond banker.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and snaky and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain no wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Repeat a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

MISSIONARY TO TELL OF PERILS IN FAR EAST

Terrifying experiences in bandit and Bolshevik-infested China will be related by Miss Regina B. Lustgarten, returned missionary of the Episcopal church, at St. Philip's cathedral Saturday night. The young woman's auxiliary will serve a supper at 6:30 o'clock and the missionary's talk will follow. An inspired speaker, Miss Lustgarten knows her subject. She will have lived among the natives during her mission station. Because her talk will be timely, all denominations have been requested by their mission boards to take special courses of study during the coming winter.

Miss Lustgarten was present at the summer conference of the Fourth Province church at Sewanee, Tenn., in August, at which time she spoke before the convention on conditions in China.

Cook To See Children By Ruling of Court

Reunion of William J. Cook, life tenant under executory conveyance, and his two children for the brief span of 30 minutes will be allowed at 3 o'clock this afternoon under an order signed by Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton superior court. The children, Marion, 10, and James, 13, are in the custody of the juvenile court, and legal custody papers, paving the way for possible adoption, are being prepared.

Marion and James Cook were taken in charge by the juvenile court soon after the slaying of their sister, Emma Jane, by their father. They have been boarding in a private home and attending school while their father was waging a successful fight to escape the electric chair. Their mother, sent to the state woman's prison for a prohibition violation, has not been heard from since her release, it was said.

Cook is in Fulton tower awaiting assignment to a prison camp. The meeting of father and children will be at the juvenile detention home.

Confectioner Charged With Cruelty to Puppy

Charged with cruelty to animals, Pete Matringos, operator of a confectionery shop at 290 Parkway drive, was bound over to the city criminal court under $100 bond Thursday afternoon by Recorder A. W. Callaway. Charges that Matringos severely beat and then wounded with a gun a valuable pedigreed Boston terrier pup at his store several days ago were preferred by Mrs. A. Brown, an officer of the Atlanta Humane Society.

According to reports to police, Matringos and a negro woman were in his store when the seven-month-old pup came in. The negro became frightened and told Matringos the dog was mad, it was said. The proprietor then beat the dog with a chair and later shot it in the neck, it was alleged. The animal, the property of Max Hobkin, of 298 McKenzie drive, N. E., was taken to a dog and cat hospital, where its condition was said to be serious. Matringos said he thought the dog was mad and was protecting himself.

McCorkle Indicted On Kidnaping Count

Charged with the kidnaping of his own son, C. D. McCorkle, former well-known Atlanta attorney and court commissioner, was being sought Thursday by DeKalb county officers following his indictment by the DeKalb county grand jury on the kidnaping charge. The son, C. D. McCorkle Jr., was awarded to the custody of his mother, Mrs. Avis McCorkle, following a divorce, has been missing since August 26.

Len B. Guillebeau, Atlanta lawyer who represented Mrs. McCorkle in the divorce proceedings, assisted DeKalb county authorities in preparing the bill of indictment. Guillebeau said that while Mrs. McCorkle was in his office last August preparing to institute contempt proceedings against her divorced husband because of default of alimony payments, McCorkle, who had remarried, went to the home of her father, H. C. Jordan, on Church street, and requested to be allowed to take the son for an automobile ride. The child has not been seen since, Guillebeau said.

ATTORNEY IS CLEARED IN MIAMI DEATH CASE

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Charges of manslaughter against W. O. Bozeman, Miami attorney, were ordered dismissed today by Criminal Court Judge E. C. Collins, following state supreme court reversal of Bozeman's earlier conviction in the case. Bozeman was charged in connection with the fatal stabbing of Clinton C. Rydell, Miami fireman, during a fishing trip to the Florida keys.

OUTDOOR HALLOWEEN PARTIES.

Witches, goblins, brownies, black cats, bats, owls and ghosts hold sway over parties given for Halloween. These must always be in the background of the decorations and motifs, but novelty as to use and arrangement must be sought with each succeeding year.

The very best place to hold a Halloween party is in the woods. People who live in small towns or in the country can easily do this, and those who live in cities will have to make up their pack yards to resemble the woods.

Any industrious homemaker who wants to have a "different" kind of a party on this festive night may beautify the local woods with many jack-o-lanterns collected from her friends. These may be transported in the family car, and strung between the trees, outlining a central space in which the party is to be held.

The small boys in the family may be assigned the job of collecting a great quantity of brushwood for a fire, and if about a bushel of coal is placed on top of this, the fire will last the whole evening, thus adding greatly to the attractiveness of the party.

Guests should be invited for an early hour, say about 7:30. They naturally suppose the party is to be held at the house. By about 8 o'clock the "will all be assembled, and may be transported in the town express wagon, hired for the occasion, to the spot in the woods where the jack-o-lanterns are gleaming bright and eerie looking.

Games.
By the time the express wagon (or tightly filled automobiles) arrive at the wooded spot, the guests' legs will certainly be stiff and cramped. To quickly eliminate this, a game of tag, or old-fashioned blind man's buff may be started. Puss wants a corner, ring around the rosy and other childhood favorites will be played with gusto by the adults, whose inhibitions will be rapidly disappearing under the spell of the outdoor air, the crackling fire and the gleaming lanterns.

Conversational game will serve nicely to quiet down the guests preparatory to enjoying the regulation Halloween stunts later on. This game is played by allowing each man to choose a partner in free-for-all style, and talk with her on any subject she may assign him until a gong rings, when he passes on to the next girl in line and repeats the performance. The subjects may be assigned on paper on which the questions appear. Suitable questions are "Do you believe in luck?" "What is your favorite superstition?" "What is the best ghost story you ever heard?" "What is your favorite fear?" and "What would you do if you met a real ghost?"

After this game is played for about 15 minutes, the usual Halloween stunts should take the center of the stage. Include all of them you can, such as bobbing for apples, eating doughnuts suspended from tree limbs by swinging cords, dipping hands blindfolded into the four plates, and other usual ones.

When the guests are winded and tired of games, light the bonfire, if you have decided to keep it for later in the evening instead of having it lighted when the guests first arrive. Over the bonfire, ghost stories, blood-curdling and weird, may be told by a person in the crowd who is noted for this particular gift.

Refreshments.

Refreshments for a party in the woods must of necessity be simple. It makes an interesting variation of the usual popcorn balls to provide poppers and popcorn, and allow the guests to pop their own corn, which may be buttered therewith and eaten with gusto. Frankfurters on a stick, or slices of steak cut in convenient strips, also appeal to the men folks at the party. These are properly roasted and popped into split rolls, provided in large quantity. Marshmallows and apples may also be roasted.

There should be large bowls of nuts, with crackers, scattered about the woody enclosure, so that the guests who enjoy cracking nuts may do so for the entire group. Of course, cider, doughnuts, coffee, sandwiches and individual pumpkin pies may be transported all in one trip in the express wagon just before the guests are taken to the woods. One or two members of the family will be told to remain and fix the food. Coffee may be made on the spot, if desired, or else placed already in large pots for quick service. Canned milk should be provided for the coffee.

Decorations.

The woods in themselves are sufficiently decorative, especially with the jack-o-lanterns strung around between several trees. But cornucopias, pumpkins and other homemade decorations such as ghosts, black cats, etc., may be added if desired. The charm of this particular kind of party is, however, in its simplicity and naturalness.

At midnight, or shortly after the mystic hour, the guests may be transported back home in the express wagon. Singing college songs, the assembled group will be taken home, the girls being delivered first and finally the boys.

In college towns, this kind of a party is ideal for Halloween, and enterprising club social hostesses will find in it suggestions for having a different kind of Halloween celebration.

Six Individual Pumpkin Pies.

Two cups steamed or baked fresh pumpkin, 3-4 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, well beaten; 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon ginger, 2 cups scalded milk, 2 tablespoons flour.

Make six individual pies by lining small pie pans, crimped cake pans or muffin pans with pie crust.

Rub the pumpkin through a sieve, add other ingredients, pour into the pie pans on top of the crust, and bake for 10 minutes, then reduce the heat to moderate 325-degree oven and finish baking until the filling is set like baked custard.

Put the pies into hot 450-degree oven for 10 minutes, then reduce the heat to moderate 325-degree oven and finish baking until the filling is set like baked custard.

Decision Is Delayed In Libby Holman Case

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Oct. 27. (UP)—Announcement that he will first confer with Sheriff Tronzo Scott and then make a statement after November 1, about disposition of the case of Libby Holman and Ab Walker, indicted in the death of Smith

Reynolds, was made by Solicitor Carlisle Higgins at his home in Searra today.

Since the Reynolds family wrote Higgins last week asking him to drop charges against Miss Holman, wife of the wealthy young Reynolds, playboy heir to tobacco millions, and Walker, Reynolds' secretary, Higgins has kept silent on whether he will let the cases pass.

Renet Bolikoff, counsel for Miss Holman, said today that his client is "anxious to have the trial and get the matter over with."

This simple freshness-test proves
"BAKED-IN" FLAVOR BREAD IS FRESH—STAYS FRESH

This photograph shows how you can make an interesting bread freshness-test among your friends. You may use breads one, two, or even three days old. Wrap in plain paper a loaf of Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread (X) and two brands of ordinary bread (Y and Z) sold at the same price. Label slices for the plates in the same manner. Let each of your friends test the freshness of each brand of bread and then cast her vote. We are delighted to be able to say that in many similar freshness-tests among housewives a large majority have voted enthusiastically for Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread!

Why is Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread always fresher than ordinary loaves? The answer is found in two things: (1) the perfected "baked-in" flavor process used by Merita bakers, which assures a satin smooth texture that keeps fresh longer than coarse textured breads. (2) twice-a-day baking together with Merita's "controlled-freshness" system of bread delivery service to your favorite store.

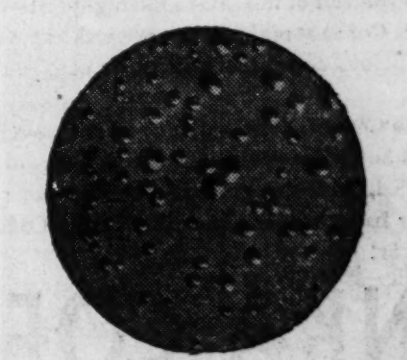

WHEN the rich, elusive flavors, naturally present in fine bread ingredients, are "baked-in" the golden Merita loaves, something else of great importance happens. This process produces a finer, satin-smooth texture, which keeps fresh longer than coarse textured breads. Then, too, twice each day Merita's "controlled-freshness" system of delivery brings to your grocer a fresh supply of golden loaves, right from the ovens! At the same time, this service picks up from your grocer any loaves that might be the slightest bit stale! So when you ask your grocer for Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread you get the freshest loaf on his shelves—the loaf that keeps fresh longer! This guaranteed-fresh bread tastes better, it toasts better, it is better! Order a loaf today!

WHAT "BAKED-IN" FLAVOR MEANS

Above is an illustration of what you would see if you were to examine the top of an ordinary loaf of bread under the microscope while it is being baked. Here the microscope has revealed the large irregular air bubbles which allow elusive flavors to bake out and escape. Much of the flavorful goodness of ordinary bread is thus baked away and the texture of the bread is left coarse and full of large holes.

Here is a view of a section of the top of a Merita Baked-in Flavor loaf as it would appear under the microscope while it is being baked. Notice particularly the bubbles. They are much smaller and of more uniform size than those on the ordinary loaf. It is the small bubbles that keep Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread its satin-smooth texture and make it keep fresh longer than coarse textured breads.

G. O. P. ROOSEVELT TALKS FOR HOOVER

Son of Famous "Teddy" Urges Re-election of President.

MANTLA, Oct. 28.—(Friday).—(P)—In the first campaign address brought by radio across the seas in American political history, Theodore Roosevelt Jr., governor general of the Philippines, today urged the re-election of President Hoover, whom he characterized as a man "capable of facing the crisis."

Roosevelt, son of the former president, a life-long republican and distant cousin of the democratic candidate, Franklin D. Roosevelt, rose early in the morning on Friday here that his words might be carried to the voters in America on Thursday evening.

After lauding President Hoover's economic measures, Roosevelt concluded with "for the good of the nation we must elect Herbert Hoover."

"The United States is still American and is going to stay so," he told his distant audience. "That is the issue in the campaign and we will fight it out on those lines."

"We do not wish our country to be made a laboratory for wholesale experiments in government ownership, tariff tinkering or currency inflation."

"I do not accuse the democratic standard-bearer of advocating all these theories. However, they are all held in a lesser or greater degree by component elements of the group that is backing him, and any sensible individual knows that when you marry you do not merely marry your wife but her family as well."

"Should he be elected we will be putting in control of the affairs of our nation a group forming a compendium of these theories. From every side the severest pressure will be brought to bear on him to lend himself to these theories. He will be forced to concede or he will be stalemated."

Asserting that the president had been "reviled and abused from one end of the country to the other," Roosevelt said that was "testimony of his greatness."

Roosevelt said "no one on earth could have stopped the collapse of the world economically, and, granting this, no one could have fended its effects from the United States."

HOOVER CONCENTRATES ON CAMPAIGN DRIVE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(P)—Before turning westward tonight for the fourth successive time in 23 days of active campaigning, President Hoover today concentrated on an almost unbroken drive of preparation for the score of big and little speeches scheduled for the next few days.

With appearances before at least 12 audiences arranged for tomorrow on his way to Indianapolis, the chief executive took time off only for a brief round of conferences and picture-taking.

Late in the day White House aides announced that an even more strenuous journey had been arranged for the president than that originally announced. Four more stops were added to his itinerary—Hamilton and Oxford, Ohio, and Liberty and New Palestine, Ind.

CASTLE SAYS CANCELLATION IS NOT POLITICAL ISSUE

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27.—(P)—Undersecretary Castle said today that party platform declarations against foreign debt cancellation in neither case means necessarily "there shall be no discussion of the matter with foreign powers, no accommodation, no amelioration of the terms of the debts."

The state department official added that since both parties are recorded against cancellation "the debts are not in themselves a political issue."

In his address prepared for delivery to the Rotary Club here, Castle continued:

"We propose to remain as we have already shown ourselves, a generous creditor, but not in a sense to the detriment of the citizens of this country. Whatever arrangements may be made must be for the benefit of the United States."

TARIFF STATEMENT OF ROOSEVELT HIT

LONG BEACH, Cal., Oct. 27.—(P)—Replying to the charge of Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic presidential nominee, that the 1930 tariff act was "a cynical and pitiless fraud," Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, said in an address for delivery at a mass

Tunney Obtains Writ To Secure Vote Right

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 27.—(P)—Gene Tunney, former world's heavyweight boxer, made the first move in his legal fight for the right to vote in Stamford today when a mandamus was issued by Judge Frank P. McEvoy, of superior court.

The writ, returnable next Wednesday, orders the board of registration of Stamford to show cause why the democratic campaigner should not be qualified November 7 as an elector. The writ was issued on application of State's Attorney William H. Conley.

Tunney, who underwent treatment for a throat infection in a New York hospital, failed to register before the time limit set by the board. He was discharged from the hospital Monday.

JAPAN UNIMPRESSED BY STIMSON SPEECH

TOKYO, Oct. 27.—(P)—Secretary Henry L. Stimson's reference to non-recognition of the fruits of aggression in his Pittsburgh speech, drew the comment from a foreign office spokesman today that "it was the same old story."

The spokesman said the references to alleged Japanese aggression in Manchuria were implied accusations against Japan "that had lost their sting through frequent repetition."

meeting here today that in 1931 dutiable imports declined 33 per cent and those admitted free dropped but 7 per cent.

"In other words," the secretary said, "7 per cent of the decline in agriculture imports was due to the depression and the balance of the 33 per cent decline in dutiable agriculture imports was due to the protection of the tariff."

VICTORY BY HOOVER IS SEEN BY HITCHCOCK

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—(P)—The republican national committee today issued a statement saying that Frank H. Hitchcock, former chairman of the committee, "is very confident of the re-election of President Hoover."

He bases his opinion, the statement said, on observations made during an airplane trip of some of the western states and on reports from other sections.

G. O. P. ACCUSES FARLEY OF ASKING FOREIGN FUNDS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(UP)—The republican national committee stated tonight that Chairman James A. Farley, of the democratic national committee, was sending letters to foreign merchants asking them to contribute to the campaign fund.

The republicans said the Montreal Star carried an account of how a prominent Montreal shipping man received a letter from Farley, saying "the United States needs a change in public administration and the only way to bring it about is to elect Governor Roosevelt."

Another paragraph was quoted:

"If you are sympathetic with this view we shall greatly appreciate any financial assistance you may be willing to accord us. Checks should be drawn to the order of treasurer, democratic national campaign committee."

Victim of Shot, Recovering, Learns of Mate's Suicide

Mrs. Marie Meeks, who was shot through the throat several weeks ago by her husband, who committed suicide, is shown with her nurse, Miss Eunice Lord, at Grady hospital, where for the first time since the tragedy, Mrs. Meeks Friday was informed her husband was dead. Staff photo by Sandy Sanders.

For the first time since the early morning tragedy which ended her husband's life and nearly caused her death, Mrs. Marie Meeks, a patient at Grady hospital, Thursday was informed that the mate she so persistently has called for had committed suicide.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Meeks returned to the rooms occupied by herself, husband and young son. She had worked all night as a waitress in a downtown cafe. For months her husband had been out of work, and the job in the cafe was all that kept the family alive. The husband had been brooding over his continued unemployment, and objected to his wife working night hours.

Mrs. Meeks had just dressed their son for school. Neighbors of the couple, who lived at 150 Currier street, heard two shots. They found Meeks and his wife lying on the floor, a revolver near by. Mrs. Meeks had been shot through the throat and her husband had shot himself through the head. He was dead.

For weeks the wife lingered between life and death. In moments of delirium she called for her husband. During intervals of consciousness she insisted that her husband had shot her accidentally. Doctors feared to break the news of her husband's death, so critical was her condition.

Thursday they decided to tell her. She had recovered somewhat, though the bullet still is lodged against her spine. The news was a terrific shock, but Mrs. Meeks withstood it. Doctors say an operation will be performed soon to remove the bullet.

Depression Increases Interest in Reading

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 27.—(P)—The depression has resulted in an unprecedented increase in the number of readers at public libraries, delegates to the Southwestern Library Association convention reported here Wednesday.

The delegates, here from six states comprising the association, gave estimates of the increased interest in books at from 25 to 75 per cent.

3 MEXICAN KIDNAPERS ARE SLAIN BY POLICE

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Oct. 27.—(P)—Because a kidnaping plot went awry, three kidnapers were dead, three wounded and three at large today.

The kidnapers seized Teofilo Sanchez, a merchant, yesterday and sent two emissaries to his family with demands for $4,000 ransom.

When the emissaries told their story to Sanchez's daughters, they screamed for the police, who arrived promptly enough to arrest the go-betweens.

Police got the details of the plot from their prisoners and found the kidnapers' hide-out. A gun battle, resulting in death for three. The three, who were wounded, were captured, and Sanchez was freed.

BETTY'S HALLOWEEN DOUGHNUTS

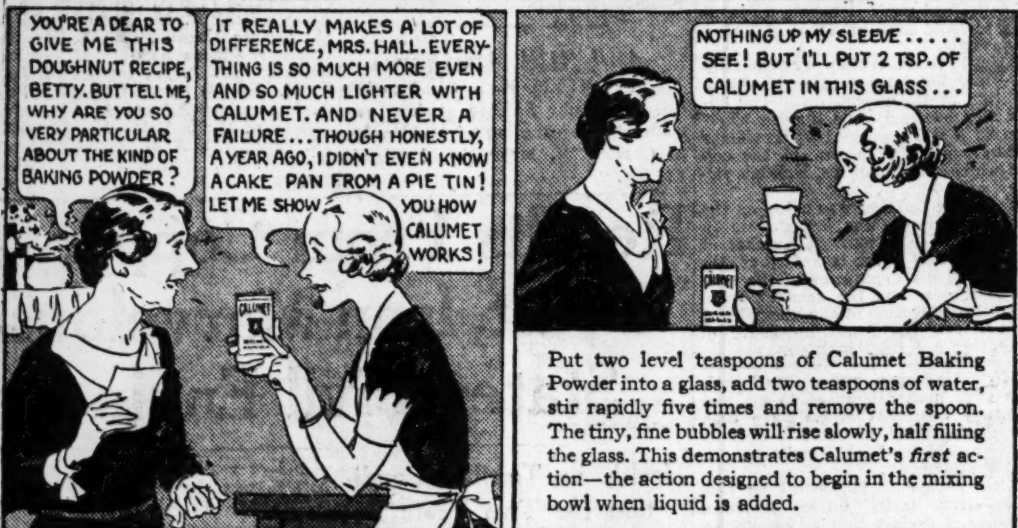

GIVE BOB'S MOTHER A NEW IDEA!

WHERE DID YOU GET THESE GRAND DOUGHNUTS, BETTY? THEY'RE THE BEST I EVER TASTED!

I MADE THEM... MYSELF. FIRST I EVER MADE, TOO.

PRETTY SWELL, AREN'T THEY, MOTHER? I'LL HAVE ANOTHER, AND THAT MAKES FOUR!

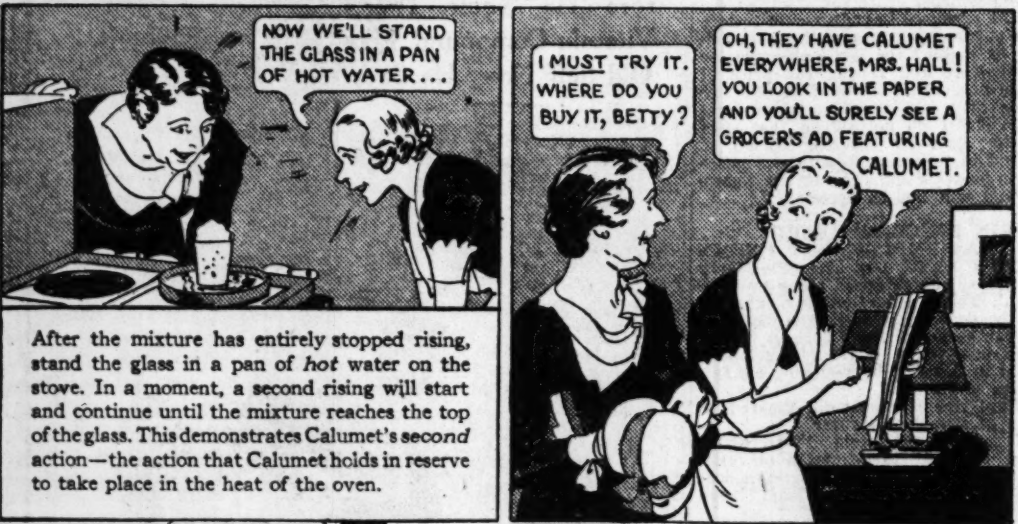

YOU'RE A DEAR TO GIVE ME THIS DOUGHNUT RECIPE, BETTY, BUT TELL ME, WHY ARE YOU SO VERY PARTICULAR ABOUT THE KIND OF BAKING POWDER?

IT REALLY MAKES A LOT OF DIFFERENCE, MRS. HALL. EVERYTHING IS SO MUCH MORE EVEN AND SO MUCH LIGHTER WITH CALUMET. AND NEVER A FAILURE... THOUGH HONESTLY, A YEAR AGO, I DIDN'T EVEN KNOW A CAKE PAN FROM A PIE TIN! LET ME SHOW YOU HOW CALUMET WORKS!

NOTHING UP MY SLEEVE... SEE! BUT I'LL PUT 2 TSP. OF CALUMET IN THIS GLASS...

Put two level teaspoons of Calumet Baking Powder into a glass, add two teaspoons of water, stir rapidly five times and remove the spoon. The tiny, fine bubbles will rise slowly, half filling the glass. This demonstrates Calumet's first action—the action designed to begin in the mixing bowl when liquid is added.

NOW WE'LL STAND THE GLASS IN A PAN OF HOT WATER...

I MUST TRY IT. WHERE DO YOU BUY IT, BETTY?

OH, THEY HAVE CALUMET EVERYWHERE, MRS. HALL! YOU LOOK IN THE PAPER, AND YOU'LL SURELY SEE A GROCER'S AD FEATURING CALUMET.

After the mixture has entirely stopped rising, stand the glass in a pan of hot water on the stove. In a moment, a second rising will start and continue until the mixture reaches the top of the glass. This demonstrates Calumet's second action—the action that Calumet holds in reserve to take place in the heat of the oven.

Come on up to the Height of health

YOU'VE enjoyed days where every minute was filled with the richness of living. You looked your best, and felt your best. Why not live more of these healthy, happy days?

One of the chief causes of poor health—and consequent unhappiness—is common constipation. It may bring headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet it can be overcome by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that in leafy vegetables. One ounce of ALL-BRAN furnishes as much vitamin B as five ounces of orange juice. This delicious cereal also contains twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Tests show ALL-BRAN does not lose its effectiveness with continued use. How different from pills and drugs—where dosage has to be constantly increased. Ask your grocer for the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"When you're healthy, you're happy!"

"How you feel—and how well you look—depends largely upon the food you eat. Be sure your diet is balanced—with sufficient 'bulk' to promote regularity."

MACDONALD, DAVIS PEACH AGREEMENT

U.S. Arms Delegates Leave London for Geneva for Disarmament Meet.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Norman Davis, American disarmament representative, left for Geneva today reaching an agreement in principle with Premier Ramsay MacDonald for harmonizing the Hoover disarmament proposals and British counter-proposals.

Mr. Davis will stop off at Paris for a conference Saturday morning with Premier Edouard Herriot. At Geneva, where the disarmament conference is to begin November 3, he will meet American delegates to the world economic conference which is to be held in Geneva.

Unless the disarmament conference is a success, Mr. Davis is convinced little or nothing can be accomplished at the economic parley. He conferred today with Tsuruoka Matsuda, Japanese ambassador to Great Britain, who informed him of the new Japanese disarmament plan which will be presented, along with American, British and French proposals at Geneva.

President Hoover's declaration that if disarmament negotiations should fail the United States would build its navy to full strength under the London treaty, was approved in official circles in Berlin but comment was withheld in government circles in London and Paris.

14 YOUTHS AND CO-ED SENTENCED IN "SIEGE"

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP)—A siege of the white way's famous night court by 150 college students ended early today in suspended sentences for 14 youths and a co-ed seized by charging police reserves.

Free-for-all fistfights featured the demonstration, which swirled in front of the building, forcing Magistrate August Dreyer to adjourn court because all his policemen were outside helping quell the students.

The demonstration grew from a protest meeting by students who demanded "free speech" and reinstatement of Oakley Johnson, economist who was dropped from the faculty of the College of the City of New York.

NINA WILCOX PUTNAM FILES DIVORCE SUIT

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Nina Wilcox Putnam, the author, Wednesday filed a suit for divorce from Arthur James Ogle, salad dressing manufacturer, whom she charged with cruelty. She said she and Ogle had decided a divorce would be "conducive to the best interests of the children."

Results From Sargon Almost Unbelievable

"Seems Marvellous the Way It Restored My Health"

"It's almost unbelievable the feeling of new life and strength that came over me when I started taking Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills. I had the worst kind of stomach trouble and was terribly run-down, bilious and constipated. My whole system was poisoned and I suffered from sharp pains under my left shoulder. I became awfully nervous and could not sleep. Now I am as well and strong as I have ever been in my life. Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the most wonderful laxative I have ever used."

ARTHRITIS SUFFERER FINDS EFFECTIVE TREATMENT

A retired business man of Pasadena, who had been unable to walk for more than three years as the result of Arthritis (stiff joints), reports that he finally secured a prescription which not only brought him freedom from pain, but restored him to a life of normal activity. He then supplied the formula to a number of others who were afflicted with ailments resulting from excessive uric acid, such as Arthritis, Neuritis, Lumbago, Gout, Sciatica and various other forms of Rheumatism, and they, too, reported their first relief. Ronton's Hydrocin Tablets are prescribed by many physicians and endorsed by the leading druggists. No matter what other treatments you have taken or how badly you have "suffered" from any form of Rheumatism caused by excessive uric acid, you should give Ronton's Hydrocin Tablets a trial. Just send name and address to Ronton, Desk AR, Pasadena, Calif., or ask any Jacobs' Pharmacy Co., Lane Drug Store or neighborhood druggist. Do this today.—(adv.)

Piles Go Quick

No Salves—No Cutting. Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the result of the internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money-back guarantee.

HEM-ROID tablets have such a wonderful record of success in this city that Jacobs Drug Stores and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money refunded if it does not end your Pile misery.—(adv.)

Helen Demands Change In Relations With Son

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Former Queen Helen, who came here early in the week for Prince Michael's eleventh birthday, was reported today to have served a series of demands upon Premier Maniu to govern her future relations with her son.

First, it was said, she demanded that she be permitted to see the boy more frequently. Second, she wanted the privilege of living in Rumania in her own palace, and third she wants her allowance restored to $35,000 a year.

BOYLE WAS DEMENTED, PHYSICIAN TESTIFIES

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 27.—(AP)—The "cool, unmovable" manner of John E. Boyle, the night after his mother was stabbed to death on Shades mountain was that of an insane man, a physician testified today.

The physician, Dr. J. D. Heacock, was testifying for the defense in the trial of the socially prominent young attorney on charges of murdering his mother, Mrs. Jessie Boyle, 66, last June 13.

The physician described as "most unusual" Boyle's calmness a few hours after his mother had been brutally slain and her body pushed over a cliff.

Dr. Heacock said he dressed Boyle's wounds and that one of them missed the jugular vein by only a fraction of an inch, and the attorney's actions at that time and since, led to the conclusion that he was not normal.

Previously a aunt of the defendant, Mrs. Mary L. Averett, had testified that Boyle's paternal grandfather had been an inmate of an Iowa asylum over period of years, and that there were two intermarriages in the family.

Boyle has entered pleas of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity, the defense had read into the records depositions of Miss Clara Williams, 72, of Rock Island, Ill., and Dr. C. M. Mackin, head of an insane hospital at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, concerning the defendant's paternal grandfather. These depositions told of treatment of the elder Boyle for mental disease.

As a student at the University of Alabama, Circuit Judge R. B. Carr, of Anniston, testified Boyle was "queer, eccentric, especially individual, dressed with pride but to extremes, was always immaculate and conspicuous; talked and walked different from the other students, and was never ruffled or excited in any way."

Several other witnesses described Boyle as "eccentric," and until just prior to his marriage refusing to associate with young women until a short time before his marriage seven years ago.

NEW DISCOVERIES IN CHROMOSOMES BARED BY SCIENCE

PASADENA, Cal., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Studies of the internal structure of chromosomes, those slender threads of life that house secrets of evolution and heredity, were disclosed here Wednesday by Bernard P. Kaufman, national research fellow in biology on leave from the University of Alabama.

Kaufman said experimental work at the Kerckhoff biological laboratories here on the basic cell life of the drosophila melanogaster, or vinegar fly, combined with his study of plant cell life, convince him the internal structure of chromosomes is coil-like, rather than of a banded structure.

This study is of profound interest to biologists, for chromosomes are the moving apartment houses in which dwell the genes, units of heredity and evolution, wherein nature has locked the secret of life itself.

Genes have never been seen, being such tiny particles, several hundred are contained in chromosomes that measure about a hundred-thousandth of an inch. Chromosomes vary in size, but not in proportion to the living structure which they make up.

For instance, Kaufman pointed out, the X and Y chromosomes that determine sex in humans are only half as large as the similar chromosomes in flies, while the chromosomes in grasshoppers are much larger than in flies.

Every species of plant and animal life has a definite number of chromosomes, humans having 48, flies eight and some microscopic water animals have much larger numbers.

As far as research work has gone, each species appears to be beyond the highest power of microscopes, but rough calculations in genetics suggest they are not smaller than the largest known organic molecules.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS PERILS ARE DISCOUNTED

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Termining "infantile paralysis" a misnomer, Dr. W. McKim Marriott, dean of the Washington University School of Medicine, St. Louis, declared here Wednesday 80 per cent of normal adults in urban communities have had the ailment at some time or other and thus carry a high degree of immunity from further attacks.

Addressing the Interstate Post-Graduate Medical Association, Dr. Marriott said the disease was by no means confined to children, and that paralysis occurs only in a small proportion of cases. This latter development, he said, should be considered as an occasional complication of the general disease.

Poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis, he said, has been a baffling disease and for a long time was considered non-infectious.

MISSING RECTOR SEEN IN CALIFORNIA CITY

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 27.—(AP)—The Rev. Rupert G. Witt, Episcopal rector, missing since August 22, has been seen recently in Long Beach, Cal., a former resident of Mobile now residing there has advised the minister's wife here.

The former Mobilian wrote that he had talked with the minister and that he had told him the full story of his disappearance. He included an address at which Mr. Witt requested that his wife write him, but a letter sent there has gone unanswered.

At the time of his disappearance the minister was rector of Grace Episcopal church here and chaplain of the local seamen's institute.

NON-SUIT IS DECLARED IN MURDER CASE 'LIBEL'

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Counsel for Herbert M. Campbell, of Alexandria, Wednesday took a nonsuit in the $500,000 damage suit filed by Campbell against Colonel Calvin H. Goddard, of Northwestern University, ballistic expert and important prosecution witness against the Alexandria man in the Mary Baker murder trial.

At the same time Federal Judge Luther R. Way held that the declaration filed by Campbell in a $250,000 suit charging Goddard with libel in an interview with a Washington newspaper, was improperly drawn. He gave counsel 30 days in which to file an amended declaration.

CHILD HEALTH REPORT TARGET OF CRITICISM

School Board Responsibility for Medical Services Dis- approved.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Criticism of some parts of the report of the White House conference on child health and protection, sponsored by President Hoover, was contained in a report made public Wednesday by a committee of the American Public Health Association.

The criticism deals particularly with supervision of school health work by local boards of education. The health association committee was appointed to study the White House conference reports.

"We cannot agree," says the committee report, "with the emphasis placed (by the White House conference) on education department direction for all medical and nursing services in the schools."

"We believe the attempt by educational authorities to assume responsibility for all reparative and curative service would lead only to confusion and inefficiency under the present order in this country."

Suggestion by the White House conference that deaf children should be treated as part of the school service brought the comment that such a plan brings the school service "into a field that should be developed through private practice and public clinic services."

Nobel Medicine Prize Is Divided by Britons

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The Nobel prize in medicine for 1932 was awarded today in equal parts to Professor E. D. Adrian, a fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, and Sir Charles Sherrington, of Oxford, for their discoveries concerning the functions of the neuron.

Last year the prize was worth $31,100. It was won by Professor Otto Warburg for his studies of the fermentation process involved in respiration.

Lindy Case Suspect Still Keeps Silence

SEVILLE, Spain, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Jean Saut, detained by police yesterday for questioning in connection with the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby, said today that he would disclose none of his information about that crime except to American police.

"Newspapers have offered me big money for what I know," he said, "but I'm not selling it. I know the names of some of the people who got the $50,000 ransom in the Lindbergh case, but I will talk to nobody but the American police."

Saut said he had worked for a while in a well-known hotel in Florida and "got to know a lot of prominent people" there. He named some of the people, but he had nothing to say about the details of his acquaintance with them, nor would he disclose the name of the hotel where he said he had worked.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Coughs

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute relief for colds and coughs due to colds. Authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, ask for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell the clerk to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hands, take the drink at one swallow and tell for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold or cough fading away within the time limit. Don't be haphazard for all drug stores invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

ATLANTA, GA., OCT. 28, 1932.

RITCHIE'S SCATHING ATTACK.

Governor Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland, in reviewing "The Democratic Case," in an article in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, arraigns the republican record of maladministration and submits that "the removal of the republican party from control over the federal government is both justified and required."

In emphasizing the failure of republican leadership to safeguard the business of the country, Governor Ritchie points out that although "the crumbling of stock market prices in October, 1929, announced to the whole world the economic collapse then already under way . . . the president and members of his cabinet, for months and months, surfeited and misled the American people with optimistic propaganda and assurances of recovery which they must have known were unwarranted."

The republican strategy for the 1928 campaign, writes Governor Ritchie, "contemplated mass concentration on the alleged existence of prosperity"—a prosperity for which the republican party was entirely responsible. Here, in the words of the great Maryland democrat, is what has happened to the synthetic prosperity of the party which has been in power since and the reasons for the collapse:

Now the election of 1932 is just ahead. The economic structure reared by the republican party during the period since 1921 is in ruins. The republican party has failed to survive eight months of the Hoover regime. Ten to twelve millions or more are unemployed, and their families are in want. Millions are working on part time, earning barely enough to exist. The revenues of the federal government fall by billions to meet appropriations, and states and municipalities are finding it increasingly difficult to make both ends meet. The shrinkage in values has impaired the solvency of private enterprise and affected the people of the nation in every walk of life. The story of the last three years is a record of economic collapse.

In expounding the republican claim of benefits from a high tariff policy, as reflected in gains in our exports following the enactment of the Fordney-McCumber act, Governor Ritchie points out that during the years immediately following the passage of this law Europe was abnormally in need of American products, and that these exports were being paid for with money borrowed in the United States.

Thus we were using our own money, Governor Ritchie cites, to pay for our own foreign trade, and as soon as we stopped furnishing the money, the trade stopped and the collapse came.

It is pointed out further by Governor Ritchie that the greatest acceleration of the expatriation of American funds was brought about by the Smoot-Hawley act. In 1929, for instance, the 467 American plants in Canada had an investment of $500,000,000, but by September, 1931, these plants had grown to 1,071, with an investment of $1,100,000,000. So rapid has been the migration to other countries during the past three years that American plants abroad represent an investment of seven billion dollars.

Thus, the article points out, has the present tariff act withdrawn a huge amount of products from our export trade, dried up sources of revenues for the various governments of the country, increased unemployment, reduced the purchasing power of the people and otherwise injured the economic and social fabric of the nation.

Governor Ritchie points out that the waste and extravagance of the republican administrations has been so reckless as to wipe out, by the deficit of a single year, the sinking fund savings of ten years.

Governor Ritchie shows, conclusively and convincingly, the helplessness of the republican administration to meet the situation brought about by the constantly increasing federal deficit—a task which was finally commenced by the democrats

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PASSEN.

Britannia And The Waves.

A prediction that "the end of the British Empire" is inevitable unless everyone wakes up to realization of what the sea means to England, has been made by Rear-Admiral G. F. Hyde, first member of the Australian Naval Board. He declares that "England ranks only third among naval powers. There are 3,100 officers and men in the Australian Navy, while even Siam has 4,800."

"If England wants a salvage job done she has to get a foreign tug to do it for her. Half a century ago British ships were the pride of the Atlantic—but now foreign whalers have supplanted them. A floating dock was recently built in England for New Zealand, and it had to be towed out by Dutch tugs. Britain did not have a tug capable of doing the job."

"Italy and France are building the two largest merchant ships in the world. The fastest warships in the world belong to Italy and France. Every other country in the world except Britain has subsidized shipping companies; and while British companies go to the wall, my friends travel in foreign ships, and British seamen are hungry. So you see Britain no longer rules the waves, and when you sing 'Rule Britannia,' you sing a lie."

For Service Vagabonds.

A pathetic sidelight on the sad and sordid side of the life of Paris may be seen at 8 o'clock every Sunday morning in the crypt of the Sacre Coeur. It is a special mass for the "clochards"—the man who lives on the lower embankments of the Seine or in other convenient spots in "la ville."

It is a service into which the outside does not care to intrude, but if you would have a glance at the congregation you may see it on the steps of the church awaiting the opening of the door.

Here the tramps gaze on one of the most wonderful panoramas of the world, the amazing city dominated from the heights by the mighty white basilica. They come here, these outcasts, as though in obedience to some mysterious call. They carry their worldly belongings wrapped in sackcloth or in old newspapers. What strikes one more than anything else is their silence. With their parcels they enter the chapel of the crypt. One dare not seek to pry into their thoughts or their lives—as they listen to the Epistle and the Gospel for the day.

Can there be anywhere else a congregation to whom the words in the Gospels are "Give this day our daily bread," are invested with a deeper significance?

Georgia Heroes Of The World War

By Sergeant L. E. Jaekel (All Rights Reserved.)

JOHN L. BECK, army serial No. 541,100, Company C, 10th Cavalry, 7th Infantry, Third Division, American Expeditionary Force, awarded the Croix de Guerre of France for heroic gallantry in action, was killed in action July 15, 1918, at Fosseux, France.

After the remainder of his platoon had been killed, Sergeant Beck, with five other soldiers, succeeded in holding his platoon position against a flank attack by the enemy. He was severely wounded, but he refused to leave his post and maintained his position against odds until the situation was well in hand and the enemy was routed.

He was born in Wilkinson county, Georgia; residence at enlistment, McIntyre, Ga.

THE WOMEN AND THE CHEST.

No group is more deserving of the "stout fellow" appellation than the women's division of the Community Chest which, after having their quota increased over last year, secured advance donations for the Community Chest of $28,000 ready for reporting on the second day of the campaign.

Not only did the women exceed their quota by more than one-third, but they secured the $28,000 in subscriptions from women only. Concentrating on people who never before had given to the Chest, the women added scores of new names to their list. The wisdom of such intelligent direction is amply revealed in the figures.

Nature has arranged that many tasks shall always remain the property of man. But in those spiritual things of life, where love, sympathy and tenderness are concerned, woman will remain superior. No greater proof of that fact can be advanced than the accomplishment of the women workers in the Community Chest.

The work of the group of devoted women, headed by Mrs. Preston Arkwright and Mrs. Floyd McRae, should be an inspiration to every other Community Chest solicitor. Carrying the drive "over the top" this year will be a herculean task, but it must be done—and the women's division has shown that it can be.

Why Keep Your Family in Rags To Buy Swell Uniforms for the Servants?

By Robert Quillen

When a family accustomed to riches is told that misfortune has left it no more than $100 a month, its members cry in dismay and indignation: "Why, we simply can't live on such a ridiculous income."

But they are mistaken. They can let their servants go. They can give up their cars. They can quit buying luxuries and delicacies. And when their income is reduced to $30 a month, they still can find some kind of shelter and live on fat pork and beans. They will live.

It is ridiculous to say that people can't live on this or that. They can live on what they have, be it much or little. Millions of them are proving it.

If this is true of people, isn't it equally true of their government?

You are told by your representatives that the various branches of government cannot operate on a smaller income than they now have. That is silly. They haven't tried to operate on less. They are still thinking and spending in terms of 1929.

There isn't a single government expense that can't be reduced. Every branch of government could function if its income were cut in half. You know it would not.

Government now spends lavishly because money and credit are easy to get. It could operate at one-tenth of the present cost if hard necessity required it.

The salary of every public servant could be cut in half. Every dead-head could be paid from the public pay roll. Every government servant from battleships to rural free delivery, could be curtailed or stopped.

Do you think such drastic measures unnecessary? How else can taxpayers be saved?

Do you know that one-fourth of all we earn now goes to pay the costs of government? Do you know that all the money in America isn't half enough to pay the tax bill for one year?

You can't cure a patient until you remove the cause of his affliction. You can't restore business until you remove the curse that throttles it.

Take your choice. You can have prosperity again or you can have a continuation of ruinous taxation. But you can't have both.

Your car may seem a necessity. But if you must quit running the car or quit buying bread for your family, it is time to swallow your pride and walk.

EMORY SPEAKERS WIN TRIANGULAR DEBATE

Emory University speakers, were victorious in a triangular debate on the merits of the platforms of the democratic, republican and socialist parties, held among representatives of Emory, Agnes Scott College and the Georgia School of Technology Thursday night at the three institutions.

On the basis of the victors' acclaim, political honors were divided, with the democrats receiving a slight edge of points over the republicans.

In the debate at Emory, James Carmichael, defending the republican platform, was declared victor over Elizabeth Lightcap, of Agnes Scott, and L. K. Kuniyoshi, of Tech. Miss Lightcap represented the socialist platform while Kuniyoshi spoke in behalf of the democrats.

At Agnes Scott, Robert Elliott, of Emory, defending the democrats, was acclaimed victor over Miss Nell Brown, Agnes Scott's socialist speaker, and Horace Baker, Tech's socialist speaker.

At Tech, Miss Catherine Willis, Agnes Scott democrat, and William Purdie, Emory socialist speaker, tied for honors with 35 points each, while Howard Hoyle, of Tech, spoke for the republican platform.

The opening chairman of the state democratic executive committee and a graduate of Emory, presided at the Emory debate, which was sponsored by the O. B. C. Fraternity of Washington Seminary.

Christian Churches Begin 3-Day Rally

A three-day rally of all Christian churches in the western district of Georgia will be begun at 7:15 o'clock tonight at the Capitol View Christian church, with delegations from approximately 40 churches in attendance.

Judge T. O. Hatcock will deliver the welcoming address tonight and tomorrow, and delegations will make the response. Many of the best speakers in the district are on the program for addresses.

The opening address will be delivered tonight by Rev. W. G. Carter, of College Park, on the subject, "The Church, Its Challenge." On Saturday morning, M. C. Tetterton will speak on the fellowship of the church, and in the afternoon the Rev. Howard Mathews, of Longley Avenue church, will speak on "The Church, Its Message." On Sunday night the program will be devoted to "The Church, Its Future," with Miss Mae Hester, of Longley Avenue church, as the speaker.

MOONEY'S MOTHER DENIED PASSPORT

of Brian Mooney. Communication with the city clerk, Washington, Ind., Carl Hacker, organization secretary indicates that no records were kept of births in 1928. He died in Canby, Ind., in 1922. Even today there is no city clerk in that town, and therefore no vital statistics.

Mooney's citizenship, it was pointed out, was based on the procedure of the state department, "most unusual" and asserted that "under no ordinary circumstances is a passport required."

"In an ordinary case," Hacker added, "the affidavit of Patrick Shewlin, of Holyoke, Mass., that he knew the citizen, and the certificate of marriage, and knew Brian Mooney to be an American citizen, would be quite sufficient evidence of Mrs. Mooney's citizenship, on the basis of which to issue a passport."

"This is a deliberate attempt on the part of the state department to prevent the spread of the fight for Mooney's freedom to Europe through the original intent of the state department's life was made in Moscow in 1917."

REFUSAL IS DENIED BY STATE DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The state department today denied that Mrs. Mary Mooney, mother of Thomas Mooney, of California, has been refused a passport. Department officials said they were not permitted to discuss applications for passports, but that so far as they know there is no reason why Mrs. Mooney cannot obtain a passport.

No date has been definitely set for her American citizenship just as required from all applicants.

ECONOMIST SCORES BANKING PRACTICES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(UP)—All bank failures cannot be blamed on the business depression, Dr. Charles O. Hardy, of the Brookings Institute, reported today after an intensive survey of banking and financing in America.

He estimates that in the decade 1922-1931 there were 8,784 bank failures in this country, or 29 percent of the number of banks in operation at the beginning of the period.

Dr. Hardy said that the inherent banking instability "on the part of the banks" was not the cause of the failures, but that the "whole system of pyramiding a vast array of obligations which, technically or practically, are payable on demand, on a slender basis of cash and an even slenderer base in the form of stockholders' equity. This dependence for solvency is placed on assets which can only be liquidated by transfer or by wholesale destruction of monetary values."

He concludes his survey with the statement that "the United States is not the only important country in which banks become insolvent, it is the only one in which it is so widespread."

"Establishment of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation," Dr. Hardy continues, "is to be regarded as a recognition of the fact that in America, as elsewhere, the private banks are not solvent, and that the government, if organized on a large scale, is indissolubly tied up with the public interest in maintaining a uniform means of exchange which will command the confidence of the community."

U. S. QUARANTINES WORM-INFESTED FLORIDA COUNTIES

questioned by Mr. Talmadge because he felt that the worm's presence in three counties warranted the action to make it certain that the Georgia crop would not become infested.

The Washington order was accompanied by the issuance of a quarantine order passed about six years ago when the boll worm was found to be infesting Texas cotton.

It was announced Thursday at the Commissioner Talmadge's office that Mr. Talmadge earlier had been informed that the federal department of agriculture already had sent a number of agents to Florida to assist the Florida state agriculture department in handling the matter and that it was reasonably certain that the spread of the pest would be halted at once.

Restrictions Explained

"The quarantine restrictions which apply to areas as lightly infested as Florida are not seriously impeding the movement of cotton," Lee A. Strong, chief of the bureau of plant quarantine, said in Washington Thursday.

The cotton must be compressed in the bolls and the cotton in the vicinity of the regulated areas and it must move both to the compress and to market under federal permit.

"The individual division of the bureau," Strong explained, "has found that the worm which may be in the bales, and in lightly infested areas this has been found sufficient to prevent the carriage of other varieties of pink boll worms in baled cotton."

"Cottonseed, which is the product most likely to carry pink boll worms, must be sterilized by heat in order to prevent the building up of a general infestation in the territory, and the regulations forbid shipment of cottonseed to uninfested localities, for example, to the New York market."

Dr. Lee A. Strong, chief of the bureau of plant quarantine, said that the shipment of other cotton products originating in the regulated area.

More than 90 percent of Florida's cotton is shipped to New York, and it is expected that the restrictions will have slight effect on this year's crop.

The other areas of the United States now under quarantine because of the pink boll worm, which is distinct from the boll weevil, include parts of western Texas, southern New Mexico and western and central Arizona.

The cotton along the coast of southern and western Florida but this wild cotton is now being eradicated.

WALTER C. TAYLOR DIES OF PARALYSIS

his executive secretary, and participated in the heated fight to impeach Woodward. His efforts were successful, but when Robert F. Maddox defeated Woodward in the general election after the impeachment effort, Taylor went back to the newspaper field.

It was then that former Alderman Claude L. Ashley suggested that Taylor become a candidate for clerk and Taylor did so. He defeated Huddleston and another entrant by a majority of 800 votes, gaining the nomination without a run-off.

From 1911 Taylor remained as city clerk until 1930, when he resigned his position while under fire of Boykin and successive grand juries.

He always maintained his innocence and when he made a plea to

Walter Taylor as He Appeared Before Entering Fulton Gang

the jury during his last trial he told that a conviction would "mean my death—the death of an innocent man."

Masonic Board Secretary.
For more than 10 years he was secretary of the Masonic board of relief, dispensing the funds of the organization to Masons needing assistance. He was regarded as an intensely human man and was known for his own charities. Hundreds of persons were aided by him in an unostentatious way. He had little schooling but through his own efforts obtained a well-rounded education. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Troop Taylor and was born in Newnan.

Whatever political acumen Taylor possessed, his friends said, was inherited from his father, who for years was journal clerk in the Georgia legislature. This, together with a remarkable flair for making friends, for being a "good mixer," and coupled with a constant good humor, served the city clerk in a good stead during many occasions when petty politics seethed and factional antagonism threatened the even tenor of city hall activities.

Was Good "Mixer."
He possessed that rare quality of humor that enabled him to mingle on a social and extremely informal basis with persons from the governor of Georgia on down to the most humble street sweeper. He called scores of legislators by their first name, was always prepared either to extend or to accept an invitation to a luncheon, and when he told a story everybody laughed.

Walter Taylor's office in the old city hall building at Forsyth and Marietta streets for many years was the meeting place of his cronies, who discussed every subject under the sun from fishing to fraternities. The office, located in the Grady square corner of the first floor, was small, but boasted more than half a dozen chairs, which always were occupied when Taylor showed evidences of a spell of "yarning."

There was hardly a showman, from circus water-boy to lead man in the "legit," who was not a friend and familiar of Walter Taylor, and, on the many occasions that showmen would come to town, their first port of call always was Taylor's office. Here, old days under the big-top were recalled, and adventures on the road were related. Carnival man and circus advance agent, they all knew Taylor and he knew them.

Reporters' Meeting Place.
To the many reporters of the Atlanta dailies who served their papers down through the years of Taylor's occupancy of the clerk's office, Taylor's office was an ideal place to meet and swap the gossip of the day. All of the officials who had news to impart usually drifted into Taylor's office during the day, and one had but to sit and wait to find out what was going on under the city hall roof. Taylor's ready wit was famed throughout city hall circles, and many a new "gag" had its origin in his fertile brain or in his "bull" sessions with cronies.

A tall, rather stout man with fast-fading gray hair, Taylor was a striking figure. Towering above most of his associates, he drew the eye and held the attention. He was always the "Beau Brummel," rarely if ever appearing in public without a little nosegay on his lapel. He was a stickler for neatness in dress, and his suits were the envy and despair of his circle of friends, ranging at times from a fashionable "loudness" to a subdued brown.

Taylor's hobby was a large farm where he maintained a high standard of excellence in raising produce and live stock. His fine hogs furnished delicious hams for the best restaurants, and testified to the former city clerk's love of fine food.

The only deputy on the original Taylor ticket who is still holding an office in the clerk's office at the city hall is A. W. McClain.

Although a not infrequent attendant at church services, Taylor was never an active participant in religious activities until last Friday, when he was baptized into the Catholic church by Father Michael Larkin at Sacred Heart church. He had attended the Catholic church frequently.

Indicted on 25 Counts.
Taylor was indicted on 25 counts of bribery but his lawyers were able to defeat virtually all of them. The two convictions carried five years of service and $4,000 in fines. He quit fighting his convictions and began serving his sentence February 15, 1932, and had been at the River camp since that time.

For the last several months he had done little work, attaches at the camp realizing that his physical condition barred him from manual labor.

In addition to his wife, Mrs. Walter C. Taylor, he is survived by a granddaughter, Miss Doris Taylor, and a sister, Miss Willie Taylor, 272 Glen Iris drive, N. E.

He was a Mason, a Shriner, a member of the Atlanta lodge of Elks and was affiliated with many other secret and fraternal orders.

GIRL CHANGES STORY OF JERSEY ABDUCTION

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 27.—(P)—Police today postponed the arraignment of Samuel Morris, 47, on charges of abduction and assault with intent to kill because Anna Kleinhandler, 8, changed her story again and said Morris was not the man who lured her away from home last Saturday.

FARM CREDIT GROUP SET UP AT BALTIMORE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(P)—The Reconstruction Corporation today announced creation of a regional agricultural credit corporation in the second Federal Land bank district with the main office at Baltimore. The district is composed of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and West Virginia.

Bronchial Infections Need Creomulsion

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.

Creomulsion with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops all coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creomulsion is powerful in the treatment of all colds and coughs no matter how long standing, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take.

Your own druggist guarantees Creomulsion by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creomulsion as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creomulsion on hand for instant use.

Bess' History

IF I WERE YOU

By P. G. Wodehouse

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Just before Anthony, Fifth Earl of Albemarle, became engaged to Violet Vanbrugh, the daughter of the late Lord Weymouth, a very pretty but hard-boiled as a fashion as Mrs. Price, Tony's old nurse, called him again—and talked. She called him a little, and said that she and she switched children; that Tony was a child and Syd was Lord Drouthwich. Price was the sister of Sinsbury, but Sinsbury was a very different person. London, insisted upon claiming them as Tony's family, which includes his mother, the Hon. Freddie Chalk-Marshall, and his father, the Hon. Lord Lydia. Lydia, incidentally, said that the Cockney barber so uncomfortable for him "educating" him that he would change his name to "Lionel" and go by "Polly Brown," a pretty name for a man who was a man in Syd's shop. Lord Langley End, his country estate, the Earl of Albemarle, said that he would go to the Earl of Albemarle, he broke it to the Earl of Albemarle and he proposed to the Earl of Albemarle.

INSTALLMENT XXVI.

"I want to quit," he said briskly.
"Give up your claim?"
"That's it . . . if it's made me while."

Tony whistled softly. "This is very sudden, isn't it? 'Been comin' on for weeks, Syd, with the air of an inevitable vealing symptoms. 'Ridin' 'n' . . . concerts . . . lectures . . . mused bleakly, and in a soft voice evoked the name of the deity. "I had enough of it. So, if your position is right and we don't bicker quarrel about the figure, I'm thankful and you can have the damn title, welcome."

It seemed to Polly that she was out of place at such a momentous occasion. High matters of state were being discussed, and she felt that she had no right to listen to them.

"Shall I go?" she asked.

"Of course not," said Tony.

"Don't pop off on my account," urged Syd.

"But you want to talk . . ."

"We're going to talk," said Tony.

"At least, I am. I'm going to talk to this poor, deluded chump who's called Dutch uncle. Syd, you old fellow, proceeded Tony forcefully, "listen to me."

Frost and Sunshine Predicted for Today

Possibility of a light frost this morning was seen Thursday by George W. Mindling, United States meteorologist, as he issued a forecast of fair weather with slightly rising temperatures.

The cold spell which came in Wednesday night from the west will be over when the sun gets in its work today and, from an expected minimum of 40 to 45 degrees, the mercury probably will rise to 65 degrees during the afternoon, Mr. Mindling said.

With the passage to the east of a low pressure trough which brought the rain and chill, Atlanta Thursday was governed by an area of high pressure which cleared the skies and brought the observation from the local weather office that rains expected for the end of this week are not in sight as yet.

The wind added its bit to the cold spell Wednesday night and Thursday, at times reaching a velocity of 28 or 30 miles an hour and sipping around corners to the discomfort of pedestrians unprepared for the chilly weather. The wind was expected to die down Thursday night. Temperatures Thursday ranged from 43 to 58 degrees.

HALLOWEEN BALL GIVEN AT CAPITAL CITY CLUB

Halloween ball was given Thursday night at the Capital City town club by the members of the First National Bank and Trust Company of Georgia Club. Entertainment was comprised of bridge and dancing.

Arrangements for the dance and special features were planned by the entertainment committee. Ted Doolittle, the "Village Nutsmith," WGST radio star; Miss Anne Burrell, radio singer; and Perry Bechtel and his orchestra were on the program.

Colorful decorations in the Halloween spirit adorned the ballroom. Several hundred bank employees and their wives and escorts attended the affair. W. R. (Bob) Roberts is president of the club.

CANDLER IS RE-ELECTED BY DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE

Defeated Primary Candidates Opposing Nominees Fought at DeKalb Meeting.

Candidates who were defeated in the democratic primary and now are opposing the primary nominees in the general election were flayed Thursday night by speakers before a meeting of the DeKalb County Democratic League at the courthouse in Decatur. Scott Candler, mayor of Decatur, was re-elected president of the league at the meeting, which was attended by approximately 150 of its 800 members.

Lawrence Camp, attorney-general of Georgia and former state democratic chairman, in his address urged that the state primary be preserved. He elucidated on the reasons for the white primary and gave its history. He was followed in speaking by William Schley Howard, prominent Atlanta attorney and democratic leader, who also supported the state primary and spoke against A. G. Barnett, defeated in the state primary for tax commissioner, who is offering in the general election as an independent against Hon. Howard, chosen in the preliminary voting.

Mr. Barnett was in the audience, but did not speak, it was said. Roy Leathers, defeated candidate for solicitor-general, announced that he would lend his support to the primary nominee, and would "stick to his party and party pledge."

DURANT SPEAKS TODAY AT SPELMAN COLLEGE
"Is Progress Real?" will be discussed by Will Durant, noted philosopher, who will lecture at Spelman College at 1:30 o'clock today. Dr. Durant's "Story of Philosophy" is now in its third hundred thousand. He is one of the encouraging philosophers of modern times. He opposes the so-called mechanistic theory of human existence and has several times debated the question, "Is Man a Machine?" with Clarence Darrow. He believes in progress as a real and vivid force and has enthusiastic faith in the United States and in western civilization without failing to recognize its shortcomings. Dr. Durant is a writer and thinker of note, and is at the same time one of the most popular speakers on the lecture platform today.

Economical Fuel

Buying coal of unknown quality because of low price is a poor form of economy. Of all things used in the home, coal is one you can least afford to take chances with.

Creech Coal is one of the mainstays of our business. Having handled it for many years, we know how satisfactory and economical it is for home heating. We recommend Creech especially for use in furnace, grate and cook stove.

They Satisfy ... all you could ask for!

Going strong—clicking with millions!

More and more men and women are coming around to Chesterfields. They're milder, for one thing. They're easy to like. And the tobaccos are blended and cross-blended. Chesterfields are as pure and good as Science can make them!

They Satisfy ... all you could ask for

Gleaned From the Notebook of Women's Division of Atlanta Community Chest

BY JANE HILLINGDON.

The walls of Taft hall almost collapsed Wednesday with the vigor of the applause that greeted the report of Mrs. Floyd McRae. When a committee almost doubles its expectations in contributions to the Community Chest, it is indeed timely to glorify the human kindness, the sympathy, the enthusiasm which accomplishes such a feat. Mrs. McRae, one of the three co-chairmen of Mrs. Arkwright, chairman of the women's committee of the Community Chest, brought in pledges for $28,000 when $17,000 had been the quota given her.

It takes imagination to visualize the boy whose "stomach is empty trying to do good work at school." It takes imagination to know that "babies undernourished through another winter may be handicapped by frail bodies through life." It takes imagination to realize that "the hungry father of a hungry family is hardly the man to seek employment with persistence, or to do well on the job when he gets it."

And so this women's committee is envisaging the distress of the winter, sees with faces peering from broken windows, spies dirty pallets with insufficient covering on the floor, and many people trying to exist in one room. Perhaps, indeed, probably, one of the number has an infectious disease and no way to control it or cure it. Then will all the other members of the one-room household become infected and so the city will have more incompetents, more disease-racked sufferers to attempt to care for come another year.

The women's committee of solicitors is so keen in its imagination of these sufferings that it has been able to bring the appeal to those whom it approaches for funds for the community, and the result, entirely due to the sympathy and love of humanity of these fine women, and to their expression of it, has resulted in the encouraging success of the sacrificial work of the committee.

Chamber of Commerce Women's Division Launches Semi-Annual Membership Drive

The semi-annual membership drive of the women's division of the Chamber of Commerce has been launched on a competitive basis under new leaders, Miss Elma Burnett and Mrs. A. E. Sansburn, and prizes will be awarded to those doing the most effective work in the drive.

The women's division celebrated its tenth birthday last January and numbers in its membership the outstanding business and professional women of Atlanta as well as leading club and home loving women desiring to help in the growth and development of the city. Civic-minded women in every field have comprised the membership, since the division is the only woman's group devoting its efforts wholly to civic affairs.

Classes Operated.

Classes in correct ballroom dancing for men and women, advertising and commercial art, interior decoration, public speaking, accounting, citizenship and psychology are being operated by the division, which also sponsors the observance of music week in Atlanta and its environs. Other classes include those in Spanish dancing and the Young Matrons' Circle of Tallulah Falls school.

During the years of the present emergency the women's division has done its full share of relief work in the case in economics, which is working in co-operation with the Junior Chamber and is meeting at the Evening School of Commerce, the night school of Georgia Tech. The specific duty is "Unfair Trade Practices," a new topic which is considered of great value in the commercial world. Those completing the 12 weeks' work in this class will receive college credits from Georgia Tech.

Miss Smith Weds Albert Davis At Brilliant Church Ceremony

One of the most brilliant and impressive weddings of the autumn season was solemnized Thursday evening at the First Presbyterian church on Peachtree road, when Miss Marion (Hull) Smith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, became the bride of Albert Davis, of Springfield, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davis, of Savannah. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Dr. J. S. Lyons, pastor of the church, in the presence of a representative and fashionable assemblage of relatives and friends. Their marriage united families that have long been prominent in social, cultural and industrial annals of the city and state, as the bride and bridegroom are descendants of pioneer upbuilders of this section of the South.

Effective Decorations. The altar and choir loft of the church were banked with a profusion of pink roses and valley lilies. A deep background of greenery for the three gracefully proportioned arches, which were enlivened with white satin ribbon and garlands with amaranth, a row of white candles outlined the curve of the arches, the golden glow of the lighted candles adding an artistic effect to the decorations. The pews were massed at the base of the arches and white wicker baskets filled with pink roses and valley lilies were placed at the center of each archway. A pedestal candlestick covered in white satin and holding six tapered candles, flanked each side of the arches and rose from the center of a pyramid of palms and ferns. The pews reserved for relatives and intimate friends were marked with white standards entwined with white satin ribbon and topped with bouquets of white chrysanthemums and daisies. The aisle with white tulle bows and streamers.

Dr. Charles A. Sheldon Jr. played appropriate preliminary musical selections on the organ, prior to the entrance of the bride party. The compositions including "Prelude to Lohengrin," by Wagner; "Gavotte," by Wolf; "Calm Sea and Night," by Bohn; "Reve Angeline," by Rubinstein; and "Liebestraum," by Liszt. During the taking of the sacred vows by the bride and bridegroom, an improvised number was rendered by the talented organist. The bride chorus from Wagner's "Lohengrin," heralded the entrance of the bride, and Mendelssohn's march was played for the recessional.

Wedding Attendants. The attendants in picturesque tableau at the altar, the ushers including Senator John S. Cohen, Arthur Lucas, Heywood Becknell, John B. Gordon, and the bridesmaids, Austell Thornton and John Paschall. The groomsmen were Henry North, Wiley Arnold, Elliott Heath and Joe High Williams.

Miss Marion Wolff was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Amelia Donaldson, of Albany; Miss Josephine Hines, of Albany; Miss Eugene Black Jr., of Atlanta. They were gowned alike in buttercup yellow chiffon velvet costumes, fastened on princess lines. The bridesmaids introduced a square neckline in front and the deep "V" in the back was outlined by a narrow cape which began at the shoulder and extended to the waistline. The skirts were moulded to their slender hips and the decided flare began at the waistline and rippled in graceful folds to the floor. The waistlines were defined with belts of buttercup yellow velvet, fastened in the back of the gown with velvet-covered buckles. They wore amber-colored satin slippers and long white kid gloves and carried bouquets of bronze dahlias clustered with yellow chrysanthemums and tied with bows of brown tulle.

Beautiful Bride. The radiantly beautiful bride entered the church with her father, Ralph Smith, by whom she was given in marriage, and they were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, her brother, Cecil Davis, of Union City. Her bridal gown was of richly tinted ivory satin, which fitted to perfection her willowy and graceful figure. The gown was fashioned on princess lines, the bodice being featured by a bateau neckline, and the long sleeves were capped with quantity of fashioned puffs to achieve width at the shoulders. The bodice was joined to the floor-length skirt with intricately cut points, and the long train began at the waistline in the back of the gown and flared several yards in length. Her veil of priceless real lace was adjusted to her wavy brown hair with a bandeau of miniature orange blossoms and she wore ivory-tinted satin slippers and white kid gloves. The exquisite veil worn by the lovely bride hid her eyes. Boyce Lokey who purchased it in Europe, and it was worn by Mrs. William Hall, the former Miss Helena Callaway, on her wedding day. The bride carried a white satin prayer book ornamented on the top with a spray of Cattleya orchids and the satin-bound book was showered with valley lilies. A handsome diamond brooch, the gift of the bridegroom, was the only ornament worn by the bride.

Handsome Costumes. Mrs. Ralph Smith, the bride's mother, was handsomely gowned in black Chantilly lace posed over pale pink chiffon and satin, the bodice being made of cream-colored Chantilly lace, embroidered in silver. Her shoulder spray of orchids completed her effective costume. Mrs. Mary Roper Hardin, maternal grandmother of the bride, elegantly gowned in black lace veiling black satin, and her shoulder bouquet was of valley lilies. Miss Mary Lou Smith, of New York, paternal aunt of the bride, wore mauve lace posed over mauve satin, and a shoulder bouquet of pink roses and valley lilies. Mrs. William Albert Davis, of Savannah, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in black lace combined with black chiffon, and made over a foundation of black chiffon. Her shoulder spray was of orchids. Leave for Cuba. Mr. Davis and the bride departed immediately after the ceremony, by motor, for Miami, Fla., whence they sail on the steamer City of Miami for Havana, Cuba, where they will spend their honeymoon. Mrs. Davis traveled in a stylish ensemble of dark brown ostrich cloth. The blouse was of ostrich satin and the coat featured a deep collar of sable. Her stunning and becoming close-fitting hat was made of dark brown ostrich cloth, and the modish accessories were in harmonizing shades of brown. Upon their return to Springfield, Ohio, in a fortnight, Mr. and Mrs. Davis will go to Annapolis, Md., where they will be the guests of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, in Springfield, is a popular Romanian, and has made a wide circle of friends in his adopted home who will accord his bride cordial welcome. Out-of-town guests attending the Smith-Davis wedding included Mr. and Mrs. William A. Davis, of Savannah; Cecil Davis, of Union City; Miss Mary Lou Smith, of New York City; Miss Amelia Donaldson, of Albany, Ga.; Miss Josephine Hollis, of New York City.

MOTHER—Watch this Girl... This is the Time You Should be on Your Guard

Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"My back bothers me," she quietly complains... "I guess I'll lie down." Have you ever felt this way yourself?

Despondent, Listless Girls

SHE LOOKS despondent, worried and depressed. Young girls budding into womanhood often get quiet and listless. Laxative over-takes them. They should be watched!

"I have a headache," they quietly complain. "My back bothers me... I guess I'll lie down."

These are the symptoms, mother. And you should be on your guard. During this "trying time" every young girl needs the helpful benefit of a strengthening medicine like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Neglect now only invites suffering and unhappiness later on. Pain destroys beauty. Worry ruins the disposition.

That's why so many attractive young women become faded prematurely. The pretty girl of 18 becomes a languid lady at 25.

Suffering isn't natural. Remember that. It may be brave and heroic... but it's unnecessary.

When your daughter becomes tired and listless... won't you give her Vegetable Compound Tablets... just as other mothers do? For over fifty years this medicine has been considered a SAFE and ACCEPTED household remedy. The very fact that it's been in use a long, long time, gives women extra confidence. They know it must be good... or so many women wouldn't take it.

And how true that is! For our records show that 98 out of every 100 women who write us actually report benefit from the strengthening treatment of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of either the tablets or the liquid. Don't postpone for another day the blessed relief this medicine brings.

Miss Spaulding To Make Debut At Buffet Supper Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving, Thursday, November 24, has been chosen by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Spaulding as the date when they will formally introduce their debutante daughter, Miss Sally Spaulding. This affair will be a buffet supper to be given at the Spaulding home on Rivers road, to which only members of the Debutante Club and their escorts will be invited. Assisting the hosts in entertaining will be the honor guests, sisters, Mrs. Thomas Croom Partridge, Mrs. Albert Anderson, Miss Frances Spaulding and Miss Elizabeth Spaulding.

A special guest for this event will be Miss Maxwell Dudley, of Baltimore, Md., who is a former schoolmate of Miss Spaulding at Randolph-Macon College, where this debutante graduated last June. Miss Dudley will be accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Spaulding, younger sister of the debutante, who is enrolled at Randolph-Macon and who will return to Atlanta for her sister's party.

Goldsmith Likely To Face Vandy; Bulldogs End Heavy Work

Story of Georgia's New Law Building Is One Which Belongs to Football

It was 1900 and autumn at Athens and the University of Georgia.

It was football season, but there was little material and the schedule was long and difficult.

And there was a young man there who had a little weight. He knew nothing of football. He was not skilled at it. But he did have weight, and so he went out for the team.

There is no telling how much punishment he absorbed. He played center. It is a position where the player, on offense, is practically helpless in so far as protecting himself is concerned.

But the young fellow, who had a little weight, passed the ball back all season to his backs. And they were about as battered as he. The center was injured and there was not enough coaching to help a great deal. They simply wanted Georgia to have a football team.

It was a painful, exacting season, but they played it out. And in 1901 the center graduated.

It is now autumn in 1932. And Saturday there will be a law school building dedicated at Athens. There will be a ceremony about it. There will be speeches about the tremendous success the man, whose name the building will bear, has made in his profession. There will be stories extolling his citizenship, and the love which he has for his fellowman and they for him.

Programs are fine things, but they rarely tell the full story. And I wonder if they would tell the story of how Harold Hirsch, the young boy of 1900, took the blows and the physical punishment of the 1900 football season and then went out and found other problems not quite so difficult.

The Harold Hirsch law building will be dedicated Saturday. It is one of the finest buildings on a southern campus. There will be many to honor Harold Hirsch. But I imagine, as he sits there Saturday, he will be thinking of the old days when he was carrying on in football, little dreaming that some day his university would honor him so and he honor it.

It is a story that belongs to football. And the man Harold Hirsch, who knew all the discomfort and defeat of the game, still loves it and fights for it. And somehow that means more to the game and bolsters it. If there were anything seriously wrong with football as a game, Harold Hirsch would not still follow it.

And to make it more emphatic, the man who will introduce him will be Marion Smith, another well-known attorney and also a former football player at the University of Georgia.

VANDERBILT WORRIED.

Over the telephone came the drawl of Blinky Horn, veteran Nashville sports writer. He wanted to know if any of the Tech squad was hurt, how many would make the trip to Nashville tonight, who did the kicking and how the Jackets felt about the game.

"Well, sir, Mr. Horn," said I, "those who covered the North Carolina game said that the Jackets were coming back, saying they felt like giving Vanderbilt some more of the same medicine."

"Lawsy me," said Mr. Horn. "Is none of them hurt?"

"Not a one."

"Oh, me, oh, my," said Mr. Horn. "The people up here already have the jitters about the game. Did you hear them moan last Saturday when the Tech-North Carolina score was announced?"

"I did, Mr. Horn."

"Well, they are moaning all the more. I think Vanderbilt will play a much better game against Tech than they did against Georgia (the Jackets are always getting breaks like that), but what the people up here want to know is how good a game will the Jackets play?"

"A very excellent game. Tech will score. You may count on that. And Tech's pass defense is probably better than Georgia's was last week. This is a fighting Tech team with some stingers."

"You will break everyone's heart up here if you keep on," said Mr. Horn. "In fact, you are breaking my heart, and so I will hang up."

Which he did.

BOTH SHOULD IMPROVE.

Both Tech and Vanderbilt should be better this week. Vanderbilt was a bit sluggish at times against Georgia. This may be, of course, the natural state of the Commodores. But they were quite disappointing because they had previously been measured with a championship yardstick.

The Tulane game, of the week before, undoubtedly took quite a lot out of the Commodores. It was played on a heavy field and in steaming weather. Some of the Commodores lost considerable weight, some as much as 10 pounds. So, the Commodores may be expected to come surging back this week.

On the other hand, the Jackets, after two years of trying, finally clicked and ran up a tremendous score. It was like a swig of catnip tea to a kitty. The Jackets now want to take the Commodores apart and see what makes them tick—they and a lot of other folks, for that matter.

Tech will outkick Vanderbilt. And Tech's end are just as good. The Tech line will be outweighed considerably. But Vanderbilt will have to be a touchdown or so better than last week to win.

If Coach W. A. Alexander can bring his team home with the scalp of Dan Commodore at its collective belt, there will be quite a cheer for him. Not because so many people want to see the Commodores defeated, but because they know that for three years Coach Alexander has had light, green material and has done a great job with it. Few coaches have faced the handicaps that were his.

His team is loyal and eager to win for him. And if they can come storming back to the front rank of conference teams with a victory over Vanderbilt, there will be quite a cheer for them.

It should be a great game. The Tech fans are going. The train fare is $6 for the round trip. I do not know how much gas your car uses. But either way the going is good.

VANDERBILT PROTESTS.

Vanderbilt coaches protest that their new shift is strictly legal and not a violation of the rules forbidding any use to draw an opponent offside.

"It is strictly a maneuver for position," says Josh Cody in an article in the Nashville Banner by Freddie Russell, "and not a trick to draw the opposing team offside. Our men pull out of the line and then stop for the full second as required by the rules."

The Commodores insist that the rules do not say how a shift shall be made. That is, whether the players shall step across, as the Notre Dame shift goes, or hop as some others do. The Commodores pull out on the run and then halt suddenly for the required one second.

JACKETS LEAVE EARLY TONIGHT FOR VANDERBILT

Tech Squad in Good Physical Shape; Lackey Is Scrimmaged.

By Jimmy Jones.

Georgia Tech's football squad, some 35 members strong, will board train for Nashville, Tenn., today at 6:30 p. m., with all eyes looking to the game with Vanderbilt Saturday night. An outside chance of obtaining revenge for the 40-7 shelling the Commodores inflicted upon a team of young Jackets here last year.

Coach Alexander, gave his varsity a final trimming of yesterday against the Vanderbilt shift, mainly for the purpose of acquainting Captain Howard Nebbett, center, and Tazman Lackey, guard, with his intricacies.

These two players have not been scrimmaged heavily since the North Carolina game and Coach Alex wanted them to get a good idea of the shift.

On the day of departure the Tech squad seems to be in about the best physical trim it has enjoyed since the start of the season.

GOLDSMITH BETTER.

Jerry Goldsmith, the Jackets' sterling right end, who played brilliantly enough against Kentucky to gain early mention for an All-Southern berth, has recuperated sufficiently from an ankle injury to be conceded an excellent chance of playing against the Commodores by Coach Alexander.

"Goldsmith has mended rapidly and I think he can be used Saturday," Coach Alex stated last night. Jerry was not able to play against North Carolina, but he has been working hard in an effort to crash the first string playing line.

LINEUP NOT NAMED.

Both Lackey and Jones played a good portion of the North Carolina game, but Coach Alex would not reveal any plans for his starting lineup, but chances are he will handle his two teams very much as he did in the North Carolina game. The first and second elevens were about equally effective against the Tarheels.

Willcox, guard, and Peterson, back, are other players who are well over the season hump. Tazman Lackey's improvement at guard has lessened some of the worry about that position and then there is Casey Jones, the Newman, Ga., lad who has been working hard in an effort to crash the first string playing line.

Both Lackey and Jones played a good portion of the North Carolina game, but Coach Alex would not reveal any plans for his starting lineup, but chances are he will handle his two teams very much as he did in the North Carolina game. The first and second elevens were about equally effective against the Tarheels.

Due to some overtime work by Trainer Mike Chambers, all the Jackets' crimping saving John Ferguson, who still has a bad knee, are considered in playing form now. Following yesterday's scrimmage, in which none of the varsity men were hurt, Coach Alex felt that the boys had done in the game against Vandy at normal strength. The squad had plenty of pep and ginger and seemed on edge for the game.

Coach Alex in comparing weights of his players and those of his distinguished rival and friend, Colonel Dan McGugin, gave the Commodores a run-around. He pointed out that Vernon Close, the Commodore quarterback, was a heavier man than either McArthur or Gooding, his quarterbacks.

Chuggy Fortune, the Commodore fullback, outweighed Ben Cherry and Dixie Roberts is heavier than any halfback Tech carries.

VANDY LINE REGGED.

The Vandy line, from end to end, seems to be more rugged than Tech's. Consequently Tech must make up another weight handicap with pluck and fight in the line. As for speed, the Jackets have that, and their half dozen halfbacks ought to give the Commodores some worry, even if they have the great broken field threat, Dixie Roberts.

Both of Tech's backfields functioned smoothly against Carolina. Coach Alex gives Vandy the edge on weight and power. His players have been generous. They don't want to spot the Commodores that much and maintain their high hopes of victory.

With two conference victories over Clemson and Carolina to their credit and good showings against Kentucky and Auburn, the Jackets are greatly encouraged. They practiced a goal line defense against the shift yesterday and were careful to watch their positions. The squad has worked mightily all week and has the confidence that goes with good condition and good coaching.

While the team leaves early tonight, there is a special train leaving at 9:30 o'clock which will carry most of the Tech players. The Tech band and student body will be down to give the boys an Aloha.

Walt Gordin and Coot Watkins, former Tech stars, announced they were going along to root for the boys. The Tech band will not be able to make the trip.

Baby Jackets Play Auburn Freshmen Today. Georgia Tech's freshman team, after compiling two victories against Douglas and Monroe Aggies, will take the Auburn freshmen in a game at Grant field this afternoon, starting at 3 o'clock.

The Baby Jackets, after scrimmaging hard against the varsity all week, worked under the lights last night for the game. The Auburn freshmen are said to be strong this year and the Tech yearlings are eager to trim them.

The Baby Jackets will use the tricky Vanderbilt shift today, as they have learned some 24 plays from it. The freshmen have to change systems every week. For the last two weeks they have been using Notre Dame plays in their games. They don't have time to learn any of their own.

To date the Tech freshmen have beaten Douglas, 7-0, and Monroe, 33-0. Neither team is able to cross their goal line against the rugged Tech line. The freshman board of strategy will start the same team which opened against Monroe. There is no admission charge for spectators, the public being welcomed to see the game.

TRACKS IN EAST FINISH IN 'RED' OUTLOOK DARK

Shorter Meetings and Reduced Purses Seen. Many May Close.

By Orlo Robertson.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The metropolitan horse-race season, marked by heavy financial losses for the public and injuries to many star performers, comes to a close Saturday, with the prospects far from bright for the renewal of the horse-bred sport next spring, except on an abbreviated scale.

With a decided decline in gate receipts, the tracks' chief source of revenue, every course in New York state, with the possible exception of Empire City, finished far in the red.

Belmont Park and Saratoga officials annually expect a deficit, due to their rich purses policy of putting profit back into improvements, but they have been so hard hit this year that retrenchment appears inevitable.

PURSES SLASHED. Purses were slashed and overhead cut to the bone at Jamaica and Aqueduct. There is a strong possibility, however, these tracks will not open their season next year unless relief is furnished in the form of legislation legalizing betting.

Racing men predict that the sport in the state next year will be limited to a 30-day meeting at Belmont Park, to run off stakes, with the probability of a shortened session at Saratoga.

Joseph E. Widener, president of the Westchester Racing Association, which operates Belmont Park, has announced his intention of going before the state legislature next year in an effort to secure the adoption of a pari-mutuel law—a law which would give the state and track a percentage of all money won.

Under the present system of "memory" betting, the tracks receive no cut of the money bet with bookmakers. They are forced to charge an admission of $2.50, as compared to $1 and $1.50 in Maryland, Illinois and Kentucky, where pari-mutuel wagering is permitted.

STARS MISSING. Failure of the leading thoroughbreds to stand training not only left the juvenile and 3-year-old championships in doubt, but detracted interest from many stakes on all of the major tracks of the country. C. V. Whitney's Equipoise, holder of the world's competitive mile, was the only one that stood the rigors of training.

The death of Phar Lap, "wonder horse" from Australia, was the first setback. E. R. Bradley's Burgo King, winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, went wrong. Boatwain, the conqueror of Burgo King in the 1931 Kentucky Derby, has not faced the barrier since June.

Twenty Grand came back to the races, but after two starts joined William Woodward's 3-year-old, a championship contender among the 3-year-olds, on the sidelines.

Morton L. Schwartz's Gusto, leading money winner of the year, is a 3-year-old, but he is on the sidelines. Tommie's Lad, winner of the 1931 Kentucky Derby, is a 3-year-old, but he is on the sidelines. Tommie's Lad, winner of the 1931 Kentucky Derby, is a 3-year-old, but he is on the sidelines.

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1932.

Then I looked into the future far as human eye could see, Picking all the coming winners, as they really ought to be.

Then I looked into the future where, as twilight crowned the sky, I could see the winners wiping mud or dirt from ear and eye. (Almost by A. Tennyson.)

SATURDAY'S ROUND-UP.

Notre Dame-Pittsburgh, at Pittsburgh.

The Panther stalks his age-old rival, But with snarling fang and bristling hair; But when the South Bend Simoon rides, It blows the hair from Panther hides; The Panthers clawed a path to fame, But my dough goes on Notre Dame.

Yale-Dartmouth, at New Haven.

Old Yale may play the course in par, But not with stuff it's shown so far; And as I am no cock-eyed sphinx, I can't out-riddle Dartmouth's jinx. I'll have to prophesy Yale's fame When she has won a football game; Let "My Blue Heaven" still career; I'll pick "the winner" of the Green.

Harvard-Brown, at Boston.

Will Cambridge town be red or brown When Tuck McLaughlin's Bears get through? If Crisscross played I'd give the shade To Harvard by a span, or two; But as it is—O, well, gee whizz—I still pick Harvard's Crimson hue.

Columbia-Cornell, at New York.

Is Columbia the gem of the gridiron? Is Cornell now ready to surge? Although I'm no Keats nor a Byron, I still have a lyrical urge; With Johnny Ferrara and Big Viviano And Clifford Montgomery and Lou, I'll stick to my poetic license today And turn this one over to you. Gentle reader, I'll turn this guess over to you.

Michigan-Princeton, at Ann Arbor.

The Tiger has a royal stripe, A royal paw, a royal swipe; And yet the pesky Wolverine Is all there to be seen; The Wolverine, in jungle brakes, Will like to dine on Tiger stakes; And Princeton so far hasn't met A Newman or Petoskey yet. The Orange and the Black are due? I'll pick the Yellow and the Blue.

N. Y. U.-Purdue, at New York.

When old Purdue and N. Y. U. In their big meeting wangle through, Is Cornell now ready to surge? Will linger with that western bunch;

These fast Who's Who's from Hoosierville Are ready for their eastern kill; And if I made the other plea, George Aude would never speak to me.

Ohio State-Wisconsin, at Columbus.

"On Wisconsin?"—maybe so; I like "the Buck-eyed battle cry;" Frank Crumit wrote some years ago; The Scarlet and the Grey gets by.

Vanderbilt-Georgia Tech, at Nashville.

Though there will be no Ramblin' Wreck Attached, perhaps, to Georgia Tech, I rather think the Commodore Has got the edge—and maybe more.

Pennsylvania-Navy, at Philadelphia.

When Master William Penn was young Before the Red and Blue was sung, Our Navy, in the seaward zones, Was little more than John Paul Jones; Our Navy now is tried and true, But I still like the Red and Blue.

Auburn-Mississippi, at Auburn.

Unless I am quite dippy Auburn wins from Mississippi.

Kentucky-Alabama, at Lexington.

The sun shines bright on my old Kentucky eaves; It won't shine so bright after Alabama leaves.

In Conclusion.

The Longhorns have too keen a twist for any Southern Methodist.

Between V. P. I. and W. & L., I think you know who'll catchmost.

I like the Army to beat William and Mary, And I mean both;

And on Stanford trimming strong U. C. L. A. I'll pledge my troth.

I think Kid Stagg's Chicago boys will peg harpoons at Illinois.

I give Northwestern just a shade above the Minnesota grade, And yet the Gopher in a pinch can even make the Wild Cat flinch.

Tulane looks finer than South Carolina.

If Duke can upset Tennessee then Bobby Jones can lose to me.

Colgate and Penn State—joy, O joy— I'm glad I'm not a Penn State boy.

Though Fordham may have no superior knowledge, I'll pick her to ramble through old Boston College.

Night Auto Tracks

Planned in Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Announcement that two night automobile races will be operated in the Miami area this winter were made today by promoters of the projects.

Joseph W. Doherty, of Boston, and Raymond P. Shannon, of New York, said they would be associated with Richard G. Dunn, formerly of Detroit and Boston Madison Square Garden Corporation in presenting night automobile racing in a track to be built here. Their programs, they said, will start about January 1. Details for purchase of a track site are nearly complete, they said.

George J. Whalen, president of the newly organized Miami Speedway and Amusement Park Corporation, said work will be started next week on a 5-8-mile track. Plans also have been laid for a skating rink and a clubhouse.

The latter project includes plans for automobile, motorcycle and bicycle races on a 5-8-mile track. Plans also have been laid for a skating rink and a clubhouse.

LANIER PLAYS B. H. S.; DECATUR ENGAGES U. S. B.

Purple Game at Ponce de Leon; DeKalb Boys at Home.

By Roy White.

Four prep football teams are on schedule for Atlanta today and tonight, with two Atlanta teams on the road.

Decatur High will hold a large share of the spotlight tonight when it meets University school for the leadership of the N. G. I. C. The game will be played at Decatur and will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Boys' High and Lanier High, Macon, will play at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Ponce de Leon park in what appears to be one of the outstanding games of the season.

Tech High journeys to Charlotte for a game Saturday with Charlotte High, and G. M. A. plays Bay School in Chattanooga this afternoon.

Other games of the day are the Marietta and Russell High at 3 o'clock at East Point and Fulton High and Druid Hills High at Ponce de Leon park.

With G. M. A. and Tech High out of the city, particular attention will be centered about the Lanier-Boys' High game, as it brings together two of the oldest prep rivals in the state. Boys' High won't defend a Macon team since the 1928 season and of the 15 games played between the two, Boys' High has won eight. Lanier, and three others resulted in tie scores.

THE LINEUPS. BOYS' HIGH: Pos., Harold Stewart; L.T., L.T. Fitzgerald; Right Guard, L.T. Fitzgerald; Left Guard, L.T. Fitzgerald; Center, L.T. Fitzgerald; Right Tackle, L.T. Fitzgerald; Left Tackle, L.T. Fitzgerald; Right End, L.T. Fitzgerald; Left End, L.T. Fitzgerald.

Prices moved listlessly on the stock exchange today, the main body of stocks closing a fraction higher. Total transfers reached 720,102 shares. Stocks moved forward to what prices appeared to be, but when the market opened, the list turned downward. A general feeling of pessimism appeared in the final moments of trading, which tilted prices a shade above their closing figures of yesterday.

Around a point were made by American Corn and Corn Products and a number of leaders, including United States Steel, American Tobacco, Consolidated Gas, General Electric, Pennsylvania, New York Central, and Woolworth were unchanged to a fraction higher. General Motors closed a shade lower.

The weekly report of brokers' loans, showing a decline of $81,000,000 to $2,592,000,000, was accepted by Wall Street bankers as an indication some of the past week's selling of stocks, marginal accounts.

Reports from retail trade indicated a slight slackening there. The importance was attached to the favorable current traffic reports received from a number of railroads.

Additional earnings reports covering the third quarter showed deficits in a large number of cases. The National Steel Corporation reported 7 cents a share earned on the capital quarter and 15 cents in the preceding period of the year. The Phillips Petroleum Company reported earnings of 25 cents a share last quarter, against 6 cents in the corresponding 1931 period.

The foreign exchange market steadied today with the British pound sterling closing at $2.27 3/4, unchanged from the day before. The dollar closed 3/4 to 1 cent higher and cotton gained 25 to 45 cents a bale.

Foreign Markets

LONDON.—Business continued slow on the stock exchange. Prices opened steady to the foreign market. The closing was a better tone at the close.

PARIS.—The firmness of prices gave the national issues improved while mining and rubber shares also gained. The closing was well oriented.

BERLIN.—Prices were unsettled on the exchange but showed signs of improvement at the close.

Prices moved listlessly on the stock exchange today, the main body of stocks closing a fraction higher. Total transfers reached 720,102 shares. Stocks moved forward to what prices appeared to be, but when the market opened, the list turned downward. A general feeling of pessimism appeared in the final moments of trading, which tilted prices a shade above their closing figures of yesterday.

Around a point were made by American Corn and Corn Products and a number of leaders, including United States Steel, American Tobacco, Consolidated Gas, General Electric, Pennsylvania, New York Central, and Woolworth were unchanged to a fraction higher. General Motors closed a shade lower.

The weekly report of brokers' loans, showing a decline of $81,000,000 to $2,592,000,000, was accepted by Wall Street bankers as an indication some of the past week's selling of stocks, marginal accounts.

Reports from retail trade indicated a slight slackening there. The importance was attached to the favorable current traffic reports received from a number of railroads.

Additional earnings reports covering the third quarter showed deficits in a large number of cases. The National Steel Corporation reported 7 cents a share earned on the capital quarter and 15 cents in the preceding period of the year. The Phillips Petroleum Company reported earnings of 25 cents a share last quarter, against 6 cents in the corresponding 1931 period.

The foreign exchange market steadied today with the British pound sterling closing at $2.27 3/4, unchanged from the day before. The dollar closed 3/4 to 1 cent higher and cotton gained 25 to 45 cents a bale.

Foreign Markets

LONDON.—Business continued slow on the stock exchange. Prices opened steady to the foreign market. The closing was a better tone at the close.

PARIS.—The firmness of prices gave the national issues improved while mining and rubber shares also gained. The closing was well oriented.

BERLIN.—Prices were unsettled on the exchange but showed signs of improvement at the close.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Cotton showed a generally steady undertone today, with some selling absorbed by continued foreign or domestic trade buying.

December contracts closed at 6.37. The general market closed steady at net advances of 5 to 9 points in the morning.

The opening was unchanged. Following the opening, the market was absorbed on a setback following the opening, and the market was active with selling about 7 to 10 points higher on a continuation of demand for cotton with continental and Japanese purchases.

A bulge met more cotton and prices were back to about yesterday's final quotations. Closing quotations were within a few points of the best for the day.

There were reports that Japanese mills were buying American cotton more freely.

Liverpool cables said that hedging was less active in that market and that British buying was more moderate. Goods were improving in cotton 21,439, making 1,873,903 for the year. Port receipts 37,943. United States port receipts 4,201,347.

ACTIVE TRADING NOTED IN NEW ORLEANS MART

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Trading in cotton was rather active today and fair trade buying by both domestic and foreign interests was more than sufficient to absorb the selling, which was more moderate. The market was within 2 points of the best, and net gains for the day of 4 to 6 points.

Cotton opened steady as Liverpool market opened in about as steady a tone. Hedging was active, but not as active as yesterday. Hedging was active, but not as active as yesterday. Hedging was active, but not as active as yesterday.

TARZAN THE UNTAMED No. 113

Ahmed, son of the maharajah, was perplexed. Roger Cecil had sent word he was arriving tomorrow. Also (the thing that caused Ahmed to raise his eyebrows), he was bringing with him an English girl, hoping she, too, would be welcome.

This prince of India, cultured and Western-civilized by English schooling, was far removed from his ancestors, whose rites included "Sutteeism," or the burying of widows with their deceased husbands, as well as the practice . . .

... of throwing infants into the sacred River Ganges. Still there was his fanatic father to be considered. He knew how his highness hated the conquering British and detested the presence of English women in his palace.

Another thing caused Ahmed uneasiness, for this native state was secretly conspiring to throw off the British yoke. But he much desired to honor his friend, Cecil, who had once so bravely come to his rescue, and so he decided to accept the circumstances.

Soviet Russia Now Established 'As Going Concern,' Says Dr. Jones

After 13 years, soviet Russia has established itself as a "going concern," and every counter-revolutionary force within its borders has been subdued, the Rev. Dr. M. Ashby Jones, prominent lecturer, said in an address Thursday morning before the Scottish Rite Hospital Auxiliary at the Piedmont Driving Club. It was Dr. Jones' second talk in a series of lectures being sponsored by the auxiliary for the benefit of the hospital for crippled children, and was his initial lecture in a series he will deliver on the subject of Russia.

"The western world," Dr. Jones said, "has refused to accept the soviet government as permanent. It has looked hopefully for more than a decade for a counter-revolution to some more conservative political form. Prohibitory is a precarious business on any subject, but especially about Russia. However, some facts stand out with compelling significance.

"The soviet government has withstood a civil war, in which its enemies were aided by the allies of western Europe and the United States. Against it fought successfully against Poland, which was aided by France and other powers. Today every counter-revolutionary force within Russia has been subdued. The authority of the government is unquestioned throughout its vast domain, and everywhere is the clear evidence that it is functioning in an orderly fashion. After 13 years it is a 'going concern.'

"The best judgment I can get is that whatever changes may come in the future will be evolutionary and not revolutionary; that changes are taking place, and will continue, but these changes are, and will be from within, and not from without."

of the people," Dr. Jones asserted, "one must know the spirit of their leaders. No member of the communist party receives more than $125 a month. While there is a schedule for the workers, of six days—soon to be shortened to five days a week—and an eight-hour work day, the leaders know no limits to their days, or hours of work.

"The universal testimony of the representatives of foreign corporations and the foreign newspapers, who have been observers in Russia for years, is that they do not spare themselves, but work with a religious zeal at these tasks. When we ask why they work thus, and live what, for us, is a life of poverty, we touch that most delicate and illusive realm of motives. Just as strong in human nature as the money motive are those primary passions for power, prestige and popularity which make a strong appeal under the soviet system. There is, too, the tremendous challenge of a great adventure in the political and economic enterprise in which they are engaged. Against this is the dare of a social adventure which appeals to the heroic in human nature. And who will venture to say what measure there is of human sympathy, calling forth a sacrificial service, for these millions of people who have suffered so long in sweat and blood, that others might live in idle luxury?"

Floridians Hear Russell Laud Gov. Roosevelt

BUSHNELL, Fla., Oct. 27. (AP)—Addresses by Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., of Georgia, and Dave Sholtz, democratic nominee for governor of Florida, featured an all-day political rally and barbecue here today. Sponsors estimated 5,000 persons were present.

Governor Russell discussed the presidential candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the democratic nominee. Discussing the 1928 election when Florida gave its electoral votes to President Hoover, Russell said the state was "now welcomed back into the democratic fold."

The Georgian described Roosevelt as "the most capable leader in national political ranks to assume the responsibility of leading the United States out of its present economic crisis."

Senators Fletcher and Trammell, Congressman R. A. Green, J. Hardin Sholtz, J. S. Peters, J. M. Lee, Mrs. Hortense K. Wells and other party leaders also spoke.

J. A. DeShong Passes After Brief Illness

J. A. DeShong, for more than 50 years a widely known merchant and planter of near Stone Mountain, died late Wednesday night at his home after a short illness. He was 57 years of age. Funeral services will be conducted at 11 o'clock this morning at the Zion church, near Stone Mountain, and burial will be in the churchyard, with nephews acting as pallbearers.

Mr. DeShong served as a fireman and engineer with the W. & A. railroad during the War Between the States. He was born and lived all his life near Stone Mountain. He was ill only a short time, and had been active in the administration of his business until his last illness, despite his advanced age.

He is survived by one son, Carl I. DeShong; six grandsons, J. Louis DeShong, Irene DeShong, Wells, Cordie DeShong Haynie, Elizabeth DeShong, Tom Cooper and Alton Cooper, and several nephews.

5 Days' Notice Ordered On Burning of Leaves

Atlantians who are troubled by an excess of dead leaves falling into their yards or being blown there by pranking winds will have to go through the same red tape that pertains to couples who desire to get married—they will have to give five days' notice. An order issued by Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant Thursday invokes the city ordinance dealing with the burning of leaves.

Persons who intend to get rid of leaves by burning them must notify both the chief of police and the fire chief five days before the burning takes place, or subject themselves to a fine of $200 or 30 days in the stockade, or both, the chief informed his men.
